A Scare in the English Parliament—Visions of Guy Fawkes—London Press on American Neutrality in the Cuban Insurrection—Carlist Demonstrations in Spain at an End—Difficulty Between Turkey and Egypt Adjusted.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 6.—At an early hour this morning, during the sessions of the Parliament, great excitement was caused by a loud explosion in the building. Search was instituted, and a tin case, which had contained powder, picked up on the terrace near by. Not much damage was done. No arrests were made. The affair is involved in mystery.

LONDON, August 6.—The seizure by the American government of the gunboats building for Spain at different points in the United States has elicited the following from the London papers:

The Morning Star, Radical organ, says the American government, having exhibited vigor in favor of Spain by enforcing the neutrality laws, has now proceeded equally vigorously against Spain, and for the same cause. The writer regards the recognition of Cuba by Peru as ill-advised though spirited. In spite of all predictions the Cuban insurgents seem able to hold their own. The whispers of the cession of Cuba to the United States are now louder than ever. The Americans have desired to come into possession of that island for the last thirty years. Now the obstacle of slavery having been removed, if a fair purchase can be effected, all parties may be satisfied with the arrangement, which will give another State to the Union and remove the great perplexity from the arena from Spanish politics.

The News concludes its article as follows: Considering all the circumstances which make it difficult for Europeans to keep hold of their unwilling colonies in America, and reflecting that Cuba is now in insurrection, Spain will be fortunate if twenty million dollars ever reach Madrid as the price of Cuba.

FRANCE.

PARIS, August 6.—The Emperor and Empress go to Chalons to-morrow, where they remain until the 21st inst. The Empress will consume about three months in her trip through Turkey and Egypt.

Marshall Neil is quite ill.

Yesterday a duel was fought between Paul Cassagnaic and Geirstan Flourens. The latter received four wounds, one of them a severe one.

TURKEY.

PARIS, August 6.—The difficulties between the Sultan and Kiehdere of Egypt are in a fair way of settlement. Nearly all the representatives of powers at Constantinople urged the Sublime Porte to a course of conciliation and moderation.

SPAIN.

MADRID, August 6.—Nearly all the Carlist bands have dissolved and disappeared. The Carlists are discouraged, and the movement is considered as died out.

GETTYSBURG.

Officers' Reunion on the Battlefield.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

GETTYSBURG, Pa, August 6.—The Pennsylvania Railroad, the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, and other leading railroads, have generally extended the privilege of free tickets to officers of the Union and Confederate armies who have received invitations to attend the reunion on the battlefield of Gettysburg during the week commencing August 23d, inst., and it is expected some other roads will do the same thing. The invited officers who intend to be present are requested to report at the office of the Secretary, D. McCaughy, at Gettysburg, stating the roads over which which they will pass.

The artist, Rothermel, who is painting a picture of the battle, and Col. Batchelder, the historian, will be present. It is expected a large representation of the press will attend.

THE SUN ECLIPSE.

Bad Prospect for Observations at Des Moines, Iowa.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, August 6.—The following special has been received from Des Moines by the Associated Press in this city:

Des Moines, July 6.—Weather cloudy for two days past with no sign of a break up. Twelve astonomers are here, with eleven telescopes in position, also meteorological apparatus, but they doubt the possibility of making observations. The barometer rose a little this morning, but stopped. It will be a great scientific disappointment if the eclipse is not visible.

MOBILE.

Serious Riot at a Political Meeting—Three Negroes Killed and Five Wounded—Policemen Injured—Result of the Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MOBILE, August 6.—Last night a serious riot occurred in this city, beginning at an out door Republican meeting to celebrate the triumph of the Republican candidate for this Congressional District. The meeting was a large one and composed exclusively of negroes, except a few white leaders. During the whole of yesterday rumors were in circulation that the negroes were very excited, defiant and threatening, and meant to burn the Democratic candidate for Congress, Col. Mann, in effigy. Several citizens called on the Mayor, and some of the leaders advised them it would be better to postpone the meeting, for if the effigy threat was carried out the white people could not be restrained from an attempt to resent the indignity by force. It was thought these representations had the desired effect, and that there would be no meeting. At eight o'clock, however, the tar barrels were lighted and the negroes began to flock in until they swelled into a crowd of one thousand or fifteen hundred. Many came with guns, most all with concealed arms, pistols, knives and razors. Nothing occurred, except the the inflammatory talk of some of the speakers, until about ten o'clock, when a dispute between two citizens, on a subject entirely foreign to politics or the meeting, attracted some attention, and in pressing up to see what it was about, a white man accidentally trod on the foot of a negro. Just as the altercation about this was settled, a pistol shot was heard. This was the signal for a general firing and the whole crowd dispersed immediately. The fire was continued a few moments as the crowd scattered, and in ten minutes a dead quiet reigned, broken only by the tread of the white patrols. A detachment of United States troops was stationed at the guard house at the request of the Mayor, in anticipation of trouble. They took no part in the affray, except to march down and look after and put a stop to the firing. It is not known who fired the first shot. There were not over one thousand lookers on at the meeting. The casualties are small, considering the number of shots fired and the close quarters. Many shots may have been fired in the air. Three negroes were killed outright, and five wounded. Four police officers were slightly wounded.

The Register of this afternoon comments on the riots as follows: "Last night's work, done after our editorial of this afternoon was in print, is a sharp and quick commentary on the dangers we forecast. From the present aspect of affairs it is a burning shame that this community should be exposed to outrages like this, and the community owes it to itself to protect itself from a repetition. As to where the blame lies, there is no room for question. These deeds are the direct outflow of the maddened passions of negroes, inflamed and lashed into fury by public harangue and private instigation of the foreign Radicals in our midst. It is a question for the public to decide how long these incendiaries shall be allowed to expose the peace of society and safety of women and children. We hope a public meeting will be held to answer this question."

The First Congressional District is uncertain, and it will take the official count to decide the vote.

MONTGOMERY, August 6.—Returns are still meagre, but enough is known to render it certain that Buckley and Hayes, Republicans, are elected in the second and fourth districts. Dox and Sherman, Democrats, are elected in the fifth and sixth districts. The returns from the first district are two indefinite to pronounce certain as to the result, but the impression is that Buckley is elected. The third district is very close, and one hundred votes will probably decide the conetst.

NEW YORK CITY.

Arrest of Counterfeiters—Ocean Bank Robbery—Eight Hour Law—Prison Management Presented by the Grand Jury.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazett.]

NEW YORK, August 6, 1869.

No dispatches were received to-day at the District Attorney's office relative to the Spanish gunboats.

Colonel Whiteley, of the secret service, last night made another important arrest of counterfeiters. Suspicions for a long time having been directed against two Frenchmen, Antoine Ametele and Chas. Euchie, of manufacturing and issuing counterfeit five dollar gold pieces and counterfeit twenty-five cent currency notes, last night officers took the men into custody. A box containing several thousand dollars of counterfeit money was found in their possession and taken charge of by the officers.

The steamer City of Cork from Liverpool arrived to-day.

The new Minister from Mexico, Mr. Mareschel, and the Mexican Commissioner, Mr. Palacio, arrived to-day per steamer Cleopatra from Havana.

It is understood work will be commenced on the new post office in the Park in a few days.

Letters from England go to show that the man killed on the railroad there, and who it is supposed had something to do with the Ocean Bank robbery in this city, had no connection with that affair.

The Republican General Committee last night adopted resolutions in favor of the eight hour law.

The Grand Jury of West Chester has presented the management of the State Prison and laid blame on the Prison Association, and this because the influence of that Association contributes to a false sympathy on the part of the community which evidently results in the convicts being regarded as objects of sympathy and pity rather than of offenders against the peace and welfare of the community, and this on coming to the knowledge of the prisoners, as it certainly does, more or less causes a general discontent. The Grand Jury advocate a return to severe punishment. They find no reason to censure the officers of the Prison.

The Turf at Buffalo.

[By telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, August 6.—The horses for the great trots to come off next week are arriving from the west and Canada. It is estimated that over a million dollars' worth of fast horses are now in the city. Among the arrivals yesterday were W. R. Johnson, from Kentucky, and the noted pacer Dan Voorhies.

SECOND EDITION.

FOUR O'CLOCK, A. M.

THE CAPITAL.

Revenue Supervisor Transferred—Arrival of Filibusters in Cuba—Admiral Dahlgren—Revenue Decision—Restoration of Destroyed Bonds.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 6, 1869.

TRANSFER OF SUPERVISOR.

Under the present arrangement of transferring Supervisors of Internal Revenue from one district to another, the Commissioner has decided to assign Supervisor Ira M. Harrison, of New York, to temporary duties in West Virginia, for the purpose of making a thorough examination into the Internal Revenue affairs of that State.

BURNED BONDS RESTORED.

A letter was received at the Treasury department in which the writer says he had $32,000 worth of 5:20 bonds, which he had in an ash hole in his bacon house for safe keeping. His wife, not being aware of the fact, kindled a fire to smoke some bacon and the bonds were reduced to cinders. They came to the Redemption Bureau to day to be exchanged in so dilapidated a condition as to almost defy identification, but experts of the Treasury have managed to paste the charred bills together so as to make out the amount without loss to the owner, who will in a few days receive their value in bonds of more pleasing appearance.

LANDING OF FILIBUSTERS.

Information has been received here that a Cuban expedition, composed of about two hundred and fifty men, which left a point on the coast of Florida on the 4th instant, had arrived in Cuba. It is stated a courier who accompanied the expedition returned to Florida and communicated by telegraph this morning with a party in this city.

CHANGES HIS PLACE.

Admiral Dahlgren will sever his official connection with the Ordinance bureau as its chief, on Tuesday next, on which day he will assume command of the navy yard here, in place of Admiral Poor, who takes command of our squadron in Cuban waters, relieving Vice Admiral Hoff.

QUESTION DECIDED.

The subject of taxing manufacturers of shingles on sales, which has been before the Revenue bureau lately, has been decided in favor of exempting the same, in accordance with the ruling of Ex-Commissioner Rollins.

CUSTOMS.

The custom receipts for the week ending July 31st were $3,773,659.

CHICAGO.

The Whitehouse Cheney Case.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, August 6.—Among the documents presented to the Superior Court yesterday was an amended bill filed by Rev. Mr. Cheney's counsel. This bill is intended to meet the exigency presented by the answer to the original bill, which carried the proceedings of the Ecclesiastical body to the morning of the 22d of July, the original bill having closed with adjournment of the first day's proceedings. By the supplementary bill a combining and confederating clause is carried in and new parties are made to the suit; these parties are the Bishop and the presenters.

Accompanying this bill is a correspondence between Bishop Whitehouse and Mr. Cheney. Bishop Whitehouse in his letter to Mr. Cheney assumes that the offence and misconduct for which he was to be tried had been unreservedly admitted by Mr. Cheney. This Mr. Cheney emphatically denies, and his denial is sustained by his wife, and Mrs. A. Louise Sheldon, who were in an adjoining room when the interview between the Bishop and Mr. Cheney occurred, and heard Mr. Cheney say in a loud voice, "Bishop, I admit nothing."

CINCINNATI.

The Textile Fabric Exposition.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 6.—At the Textile Fabric Exposition there have been one hundred and sixty-five exhibitors. The persons present were distributed as follows: Ohio 54, South Carolina 3, Alabama 6, Georgia 14, Missouri 1, Tennessee 7, Indiana 17, Kentucky 15, Iowa 2, Mississippi 2, Michigan 1, Wisconsin 2, New Jersey 1, Rhode Island 1, Massachusetts 2, Pennsylvania 11, New York 5. Awards of premiums were made this morning.

Anti-Coal Monopoly in Buffalo.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, August 6.—The Anti-Coal Monopoly Organization held another meeting this morning. A committee was appointed to arrange for an immediate supply of coal and to procure a charter for the Citizens' Coal Organization. Resolutions were passed recommending the abolition of the tariff on coal, instructing the Representative of the district to use his utmost endeavors to procure such abolishment in Congress, and denouncing the coal monopolies. A Committee was appointed to draft a memorial to Congress for the abolition of the duty on foreign coal. A most earnest and determined spirit is manifested to break up the coal monopolies.

Susquehanna Railroad Stock Trouble.

[By Telegrah to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, August 6.—The excitement here in regard to the Susquehanna Railroad is intense. A complaint was made to-day against Messrs. Leonard, Herrick, North and Wilbur, Directors, and Mr. Phelps, Treasurer, charging them with conspiracy to place the road in the control of Jay Gould and his friends, now managing the Erie railroad, and thus defraud the company out of its property. It denies all charges against President Ramsey. Judge Chute issued an order enjoining the above parties from acting as Directors, Vice-President and Treasurer. This reduced the board to less than a quorum, and though they met, they were obliged to adjourn sine die.

TENNESSEE ELECTION.

Senter's Majority 50,000—Senator Brownlow's Son Beaten for Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, August 6.—The official vote of Shelby county, with one precinct to hear from, gives Senter 3,682 majority.

With the exception of a disturbance at Moscow, no account of violence at the polls occurred in West Tennessee.

The Democratic press here, in announcing the victory achieved yesterday, call upon the supporters of Senter to remember charity in the hour of trlumph and forget the wrong that has been inflicted upon them.

The Avalanche says it is understood some of the carpet-baggers are preparing to leave, and calls upon them to remain, assuring them of perfect safety.

The total vote of Nashville and Davidson counties is, Senter 6,531, Stokes 4,096. Stokes' official majority in Nashville 17, in a poll of 7,103.

Meagre returns from other parts of the State make no change in the aspect of affairs. Information from East Tennessee show that Senter will carry that section by a small majority. In that case his majority in the State will not be less than 50,000.

J. P. Brownlow, son of Senator Brownlow, was badly beaten for the Legislature in Williamson and Maury. John Brownlow is probably beaten in Knox and Roane. Both were for Senter, who carried both districts.

The State Journal, the Stokes' organ, will be suspended after to-morrow.

American Dental Association.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SARATOGA, August 6.—The American Dental Association held its final session to-day. Drs. Bogue, of New York, Buckingham, of Philadelphia, Cushing, of Chicago, Wetherbee, of Boston, and Thomas, of Detroit, were appointed a Committee to procure reduced fare next year to meeting.

Dr. Allen, of New York, Dr. McClelland, of Louisville, and S. E. Palmer, of Syracuse, read papers on Medical Dentistry.

A paper commending rose pearls as the base mounting for artificial teeth was read.

Mr. Palmer, of Syracuse, read a paper upon the necessity of liberal education previous to the commencement of dental studies.

Drs. Morgan, C. R. Butler and L. S. Shepard were appointed a Committee on Dental Ethics for the ensuing year.

Dr. Fallman, of Philadelphia, offered a preamble and resolution in favor of admitting women to full membership in subordinate associations, and that in consultations the consideration of sex be avoided, and only ability and moral character be the standard of judgment. Laid on the table, as a matter beyond the jurisdiction of this association.

A resolution was passed expunging all charges of back dues against thirty-three members who have not appeared since 1833.

The Committee on Dental Ethics reported the case of two members for advertising unprofessionally. The report was accepted and a resolution expelling one of the members laid on the table to come up next year.

Standing Committees were appointed for next year.

Dr. Judd, the new President, was then inducted to office. Dr. Taft, the retiring President, read an address, and the Convention then adjourned.

North Carolina Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 6.—Eagles, colored, was elected to the legislature yesterday by 4,000 majority.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

AQUATIC.

The Race To-Day—All Things in Readiness—The Distance Measured on the Monongahela Course—How the Wagers go—A Word of Official Warning, etc.

The boating fever is at its full height, and in the excitement over the coming contest to-day for aquatic supremacy, the exhibition arranged in the heavens above sinks into insignificance before that on the waters beneath. It is a little singular that boating and horse-racing have very decided tendencies to convert even the the most staid and practical citizens into gambling novices, just as the tapping of the fire alarm bell converts everybody and his friend into firemen. We have heard the rowing abilities of the "little engine" and the "Manchester oarsmen" thoroughly discussed on the street corners, in counting rooms and offices, and even at church doors, and those participating in the conversation the general community would hardly imagine could charge their minds with any knowledge of the capacity or endurance of either one of the water birds. Much pleasure is expressed on both sides that Hamill is again to row on Pittsburgh waters, as some time ago, dissatisfied with the treatment he received from the press and people, he resolved never again to skip over the Monongahela river in his paper canoe. However, that determination has been changed, and the most cordial feeling of friendship and forgiveness prevails on all sides. And we are glad of it, inasmuch as there is a possibility that aquatic sports on our waters may again be elevated into that proud position they had attained previous to the "fouling" period.

THE MEN.

Both the men are in excellent condition. They have carefully trained and performed the numerous pieces of hard, manual labor in the way of gymnastic exercises, necessary to harden the muscles of the body, and make solid the flexors and extensors. Both have lost materially in weight, but are more than compensated in powers of strength and endurance begotten out of the artificial toughness of body secured. As we saw them last evening they looked like cast iron men, capable almost of performing even similar deeds of strength to those which made one Samson popular among men at an early period in history. Could those afflicted with lethargy and inertness, otherwise called laziness, whose bodies are frail and weak and ready for sickness, observe the grand effect a few weeks' rigid and earnest physical exercise has upon the human body, as evidenced in the powerful frames of Coulter and Hamill, the Gymnasium would not go begging for enough subscribers to keep it in existence. The men are both in very fine condition, and their respective trainers will turn them out on the water to-morrow as good jobs.

READY.

Everything is now ready for the race. The distance was carefully measured last night, and the turning buoy fixed a few hundred yards above the dam. The start will be made at the curve in the river, a few hundred rods above Glenwood. It is understood that Hamill, who won the right of choice of position, will select the inside track, hugging the northern shore as near as possible. The occupants of the attendant "fair-play boat" have been chosen—Hamill selecting four and Coulter a like number. This boat will closely follow the men after the start, and keep them company from the beginning to the end of the course, in order to act as witnesses should any foul proceedings occur—an event we hope will not be chronicled.

A WARNING.

The following warning, issued by the United States Local Inspectors, Messrs. Walker and Atkinson, should be heeded, as it is wise and timely:

OFFICE U. S. LOCAL INSPECTORS OF STEAM VESSELS, 7TH DISTRICT.

Complaints having been made to the Local Inspectors that boats conveying passengers on short excursion trips have so crowded the vessels as to make it dangerous to travel on them, we therefore would caution the officers of steamers engaged in this business, as well as the public, from crowding the boats to excess, and thereby avert danger, and perhaps calamity, that might occur from excessive crowds. The crushing of an upper deck, or guards, or the sudden rush of people from one side of the boat to the other under excitement, would render their situation perilous indeed. The officers of steamers should not allow so large a number of people on their vessels as to endanger the safety of the boat and those on board.

WALKER & ATKINSON,
U. S. Local Inspectors.

SELLING OF POOLS.

Last night nearly three hundred persons assembled at John S. Kennedy's billiard rooms, Smithfield street, to participate in the pool selling. There were odds offered in favor of Hamill, varying from one hundred to sixty. One bet of two hundred on Hamill to one seventy-five was passed without a taker. Probably three thousand dollars were put up last night at Kennedy's, while at Mr. Tom Bailey's La Belle Saloon many large private wagers were made. Fully ten thousand dollars will change hands on the result to-day, the odds all being in favor of the "little engine," who, it is confidently expected, will make the crowning effort of his life. If he is successful, Walter Brown will at once be challenged, and every other man who lays claim to the championship of American waters.

WHERE AND HOW TO SEE THE RACE.

The race will be within city limits, but that fact, considering our immense boundaries, renders none the less pressing some mode of conveyance to the course. Various boats, among which the staunch steamer Franklin, with her clever officers and Hamill's judges and referee, will receive passengers at the foot of Grant street, up till two o'clock this afternoon, and will accompany the contestants through the race. The pleasant steamer Echo will leave at the same hour at the foot of Wood street, and moor at a convenient place to see the race from beginning to end. The Connellsville Railroad will run an excursion train to Glenwood, and return at a seasonable hour. The Birmingham Passenger Railway will run cars from the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street every five minutes to Brownstown, from which point a fair view of the contest may be obtained. The best possible place to see the race will be at some point on either side between Glenwood and the locks. The most exciting feature of the race will be the start and home stretch, observable from the banks at Glenwood, but the solid work, the artistic rowing and the metal of the men, can best be seen and appreciated near the buoy, a short distance above Soho.

Last night both men slept at Glenwood. They had vigorous exercise during the entire day, both on water and land, and each wrapped in blankets retired to dream of victory and defeat. They will be aroused at daybreak, sponged down and again go to work, in order to get every muscle and nerve in good working order for the grand contest, which more than likely involves the championship of American waters, as well perhaps as the waters of the world. We have made special arrangements for a full and accurate report, and will have every foot of the course watched by observant and impartial reporters, who will together lay before our readers on Monday morning an accurate report of the "biggest" thing on the Monongahela that has happened for many years. May the best man win.

A Rejected Cruiser.

Augustus Cruiser, a resident of Allegheny, vain man, concluded yesterday he was competent to cruise over the sea of life without the assistance of his connubial partner, Mary. Accordingly he gently broke the news to her and suggested that he had prepared a chart for his future voyaging which had been so arranged as to dispense with any necessity for her services, and then affectingly bade her and the young Cruisers, in a body, a pensive farewell. Mary saw him depart with tearful eyes, but made no effort to swerve him from the purpose, until some time had elapsed when she suddenly brightened with an idea, and not long afterward wended her way to the office of Mayor Drum, to whom she communicated her thoughts, and appealed for advice. No great length of time had elapsed ere a guardian of the law had started out on a cruise, in search of the eccentric Cruiser, whom he succeeded in overhauling in a state of beery facetiousness in a spiritual apartment.—i. e., beer saloon, embowered amid the classic shades of Troy Hill. His facetiousness was rapidly transported into the Magisterial presence where he again confronted Mrs. Cruiser and the five little Cruisers, whom he had so pathetically granted liberty to cruise without his assistance. A scene ensued of peculiar interest. Mrs. Cruiser had not called him thus because of any lingering latent feeling of tenderness or love. She had not called him to inquire particularly concerning the $1,800 which through years of reckless cruising, Mr. Cruiser had managed to dispose of. Nor did she intend to particularize the innumerable delinquincies of the male Cruiser. These were not her solicitude. Her only thought was in reference to a certain pawn ticket which called for a gold watch, entrusted to the care of the male Cruiser, but which had by some means found its way into the hands of the pawnbroker. Only this and nothing more. With feelings of peculiar tenderness, Mr. Cruiser searched his pockets, refreshed his memory, and was finally enabled to designate the exact spot in which the needed article had been placed. The interview was then over, and the Cruisers, each in a chosen course, sailed from the magistrate's office, apparently happy and contented with the voyage which appeared before them.

Nabbed Him.

Micheal Irwin's "nabber," was himself nabbed yesterday. Micheal is employed in an Isrealitish clothing store on Market street, and has for a next door neighbor Henry Kauffman. Yesterday, while both were meditatively pacing the sidewalk in front of their respective establishments, a pedestrian was attracted to the elegant display in Kauffman's, and evinced a desire to purchase, whereupon Micheal, quick as thought, nabbed him, and conveyed him into his store, displayed with remarkable dexterity, his assortment, and had supplied the nabbed one's wants before the incensed Henry could recover from his astonishment. As the customer left, and the reflection of a lost sale flitted through his mind, Henry naturally became excited and spoke in sharp terms of Michael. The latter replied in such a manner as to induce Henry to visit Alderman Humbert's office and lodge information against him for disorderly conduct. The twain met before the magistrate, when the case was withdrawn, Michael paying the costs.

Expressed Intentions.

If a person must be beheaded, perhaps the guillotine furnishes the most scientific and satisfactory method of having the operation performed. But to have one's head torn off is too much. Aside from the pain of the operation, the disfiguration of the body and head, caused by such a barbarous method, should be sufficient to condemn it. People, however, will cling to uncivilized practices, and on that ground alone, can the threat made by Biddy McCauley yesterday be accounted for. Biddy, so it is stated, threatened to decapitate Catharine McDowell, not by guillotine, nor by chopping even, but by absolutely tearing her head off, as though she were a wild beast. Biddy accompanied this expression of her intentions by language of a peculiar character—foul and very bad Catharine characterizes it. Is it any wonder that under such circumstances Alderman Thomas issued a warrant for Biddy?

Great Sale of Fine Stock.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, August 6.—The great sale of fine stock of J. H. Pickrell, one of the famous breeders of Illinois, came off at his farm near Harristown on Wednesday, and was attended by a large number of breeders from home and abroad. A large number of blooded cattle, horses, sheep and hogs were sold. Among the cattle sold was the famous bull "Sweepstakes," who has scarcely been beaten at exhibition since he was a suckling, and has taken twenty-six premiums at Fairs. He was bought by W. J. J. Haggerty, of Nashville, Licking county, Ohio, for seventy-one dollars, Mr. Pickrell receiving his use until October. Well informed persons at the sale say the prices obtained were fifty per cent. higher than the Kentucky sales of this year.

ALONG THE RAILWAY.

The Ravenna Peat Bog—How Peat is Manufactured—Its Commercial Uses—Peat in Pennsylvania—Alliance and its Surroundings—Mount Union and its Colleges—A Valuable Museum—Rare Works of Arts—The Crops.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Yesterday your correspondent was enjoying the bracing atmosphere of Lake Erie; to-day he is among the high hills and broken country of Western Pennsylvania. The railway route between Cleveland and Pittsburgh is replete with interest to the traveler. As you leave Cleveland with its Euclid avenue and Prospect street residences, valued at $25,000,000, and their beautiful surroundings, you enter a level country, and passing Woodland Cemetery soon reach Newburg with its vast rolling mills and iron manufactories, the iron mart of Cleveland. Through the trees a glimpse of the Northern Ohio Lunatic Asylum, an elegant and commodious structure, with its spacious and highly ornamented grounds, is obtained. Passing the little villages of Bedford and Macedonia, the beautiful village of Hudson is reached, the seat of the Western Reserve College. As we leave Hudson we observe patches of peat bog on both sides of the track, which increase in extent until Ravenna, the county seat of Portage, is reached, embracing in extent 3,000 acres of bog, varying in depth from fifteen to thirty-five feet. On one of the bogs, half a mile south of Ravenna, men are engaged in digging peak, and a large mill has been started by a company from Cleveland, who have commenced the manufacture of it for domestic and manufacturing purposes.

The bog now being worked is one hundred acres in extent. The peat is first dug as earth by ordinary spades, then loaded into a car, which, when filled, is run up an inclined plane to the mill. At the summit of the plane is an immense hopper, in shape not unlike the ordinary hopper of a grist mill. In this hopper the car load of bog is deposited, and there being a false bottom to the hopper, the earth falls into an elevator and is drawn up rapidly into the mill, where it is ground, the refuse roots being separated and the bog pressed in a mould, come out in long thick strips of peat on a frame, and as fast as each frame is filled it is pushed out on a tram railway several hundred yards where it is taken off the trestle work. Two frames are then set up like the two sides of a wall tent, one frame supporting the other, and after an eight day's exposure, the strips of peat are sufficiently dried and shrunken for marketable purposes.

The day we passed the bog 25,000 racks were drying, each rack containing 60 pounds, making 1,500,000 pounds or 750 tons, which for a little over two months, with a force not exceeding an average of sixteen hands, is a remarkable product. This, too, is only surface peat obtained at a depth of four feet, and which yields only 65 per cent. of carbon. A small lakelet exists at the northern border of the bog, which has been found to contain the richest kind of a deposit, over thirty feet in depth, of 80 per cent. of carbon. The cost of manufacturing peat is at present about $2,65 per ton, and it is sold at $6,00 to compete with coal, but it is thought it can be furnished much cheaper.

The question has been asked what is peat valuable for besides the ordinary purposes of fuel? In the manufacture of iron and steel it has long been celebrated; for generating steam it has been used with success on European and American steamers and railways, and for the past ten years Canadian and Massachusetts railways have been run with it, its superiority consisting in its rapid combustion, intense heat and its economy, costing two dollars per cord less than wood, where wood is plenty and nearly five dollars less than coal per ton, besides leaving no smoke or dust behind, thus being a great desideratum in steam conveyance; it burns well in steam engines; for cupola use in foundries it has no superior; excellent gas is made from it. Sulphate of lime, ammonia, parafine, naptha, acetate of lime, and fixed and volatile oils are a part of its composition. In the manufacture of pyrotechnics, for making road beds on wooden or stone pavements, for tanning leather, for cornices or ornamental work, peat is very valuable, and in all these has been tested with perfect success, and as a disinfectant and fertilizer it has no superior. In fect peat can be made serviceable in most every department of business, and is destined to be brought into general use in many sections of the United States.

The peat bogs diminish as you approach Alliance. There appears to be but a limited formation in Stark county, but it crops out toward Canton and northwardly in small quantities of bog. Below the lake slope it is not found, nor does it evist in the Ohio river. The number of acres in Ohio is said to exceed 40,000. In the coal and oil regions of Pennsylvania it does not exist, but along the Delaware and Susquehanna rivers valuable deposits of very rich quality have been discovered. Reports of its existence in other parts of the State have been very meagre, but a geological survey is now being made in which the subject of peat will be specially investigated.

A RAILWAY TOWN AND ITS SURROUNDINGS.

Alliance, the next town of importance below the peat region, is characteristically a railway town. It is, however, emerging into a healthier state, and begins to show signs of prosperity. In the vicinity of the station the numerous second class hotels, eating houses and saloons give it a decidedly western appearance, but up the main street you can find excellent stores, a spacious new Opera House, and fine new residences. Manufactures have come in with their attendant wealth and enterprise, and the place now has a population of over 5,000 inhabitants.

Adjoining the suburbs of this prosperous town is the pleasant village of Mount Union, on grounds shown by actual survey to be the highest point in the State of Ohio. Its healthfulness, the beauty of the surrounding scenery, the fertile soil, the literary and religious privileges, and the hospitality, enterprise and intelligence of its citizens, give it a special advantage as a place of residence. Twenty-two years ago, in the loft of a woolen factory, a school of six pupils was organized under a boy teacher, and without money it progressed from year to year, growing and strengthening into a regularly organized institution, which is now known as Mount Union College, with an average attendance of 500 students, male and female, from all parts of the United States, a corps of excellent teachers under the supervision of the Rev. Dr. Hartshorn, well known as a prominent teacher of youth, the institution being very largely endowed.

The property belonging to this institution is valued at nearly a quarter of a million of dollars. The grounds comprise a campus of twenty acres, beautifully laid out near the centre of which are the spacious buildings, one a chapel four stories in height, erected at a cost of over $100,000, and which contains a very large and elegantly furnished public hall, recitation rooms, society rooms, a Commercial department, a museum of Geology, Fine Arts and Natural History, a chemical and philosophical hall, and chapel. On the observatory which surmounts the tower, is a telescope of great magnitude, manufactured in Paris, and said to be one of the best in the United States. From the roof of the observatory, a view embracing a scope of twenty miles is had, the towns of Salem and Canton being plainly observable. The other building is used as a boarding hall, and is nicely fitted up with reception, reading, bathing, music and sleeping rooms with all the modern improvements. The boarding is furnished on the co operative plan, which proves highly successful in its operations.

The course of stndy pursued is very thorough and embraces six departments, namely: Classical, Scientific, Normal, Commercial, Musical and the Fine Arts. Diplomas are granted in each of these departments. The apparatus for the scientific course cost over $15,000, and is most useful and comprehensive.

But we must not overlook the extensive museum of Science and Art, which is really one of the most valuable and perfect in the United States. The collection of minerals and fossils from all parts of the globe, obtained by eminent travelers, and presented to the institution is very large. Among the precious stones, are a few specimens of jasper, carnelian, onyx and agate, which are said to excel the specimens of the same in the British Museum. Among the antiquities are Roman medals of the medieval age, porcelains from Pompeii, skulls from the catacombs, curiosities from the Nile, Arabia and the Holy Land. The specimens of iron, copper and lead ores of the United States and Europe are very fine, the compilation being very large. The crystal and quartz formations are also very perfect in their classifications. The fossils comprehend every country in the world. The Natural History department is very large and full, the collection of shells numbers several thousand. A department of trophies taken in the different battles, which have taken place since the earliest history of our country contains a great variety of curiosities. The fine art department is very full. The gallery of paintings, copies from the old masters, obtained in Rome and Florence, are noticeable for the rich coloring and portraiture of the figures prominent on the canvas. They are mostly of scriptural character. "Christ and the Woman of Samaria," "Mater Dolorosa," and "The Repentant Magdalene" are among the finest. A crayon head, eight by twelve inches, though small, is the best work of art. There is also a class of photographs, comprising cartes of the crowned heads of Europe and of distinguished men of the Old and New World, and lastly, views of the lake and river scenery of France, Germany and Prussia, elegantly colored, and said to be perfect representations.

The number of students for the coming session will easily reach six hundred in the different departments of collegiate study. Since the formation of this college over six thousand students have been in attendance, representing twenty-five States of the Union.

All along the line of the country from Alliance to Pittsburgh, especially along the Ohio river, the corn crop, notwithstanding the rains, presents a fine appearance, with the prospect of a bountiful harvest. Should the corn crop equal that of the wheat, we can safely say that the entire grain crop will be greater than has been for a quarter of a century previous. So says the "oldest inhabitant."

R.

Matrimonial Advances.

The Rev. Dr. Bushnell, in his new book, "The Reform Against Nature," writes on this subject as follows:

There is one matter where a genuine reform would accomplish more for woman, as I verily believe, and take them out of the corner that now pinches them a great deal more, certainly, than to give them the right of suffrage and of civil office; having also the further advantage that it would give them a more open way to the proper woman's life, for which they are better made, instead of taking them off into quasi battles with men for points of precedence, and prerogatives of government which do not belong to them, and never can. I speak here of a reform that takes off, or somehow loosers the embargo on woman, as respects advances toward marriage. The assumption now is that women must be first lassoed and taken, courted long and skilfully then, and almost to the death, before they can venture an approving look. If they cannot be conquered then, they must not be had, and they must take this ground themselves. On one side there must be a close fence of prudery, hard as possible to be got over; and on the other, the man who will try, must go to it bravely, which, alas for his modesty, is likely to be quite impossible. Full three-quarters of the men who get stuck in their batchelor life and are never married, are, in fact, the most inborn adorers of women; such as never in their lives can muster courage for any advance, just because the shrine they look upon has too much divinity in it for their mortal approach. Of course it will not do for unmarried women to put themselves in a way of being suitors to men. That kind of suitorship would even be an offense, and raise a sense of repulsion. Nobody would recommend to women thet they get over their modesty, but the almost cholic stringency of what are called good manners in this matter might be relaxed, without real impropriety and with great advantage. The present iron-clad modesty which is simply ridiculous in either party, might be so far mitigated as to let feeling feel its way, and carry on its own courtship, requiring no restriction save the restriction of words and formal advances, and allowing nature to interpret and work out her problem, hampered by no unnatural coyishness. Women can not be forward and bold, but they are now a great way further off than they need be.

NEW ENGLAND.

Anniversaries—Commencements—Conventions &c—Spiritualists in Council at Portland, Me.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

YARMOUTH, ME., August 3, 1869.

Anniversaries, Conventions, Commencements, Examinations and Exhibitions of schools have been the order in New England for July and will extend into August. This week the commencement of Colby College in this State takes place, and it is not a little remarkable that Bowdoin, Colby and Bates Colleges, in this State, are all named for generous donors in Massachusetts. So Fletcher who has just given $100,000, and Walker who recently gave $500,000 to Amherst and Tufts, are from the same glorious hub. Peabody is from the same state. Were there more such hubs so generously to found and sustain the great institutions of learning and religion in different parts of our land, vice and crime would be greatly diminished and the permanency of our government would be much increased. Deride and abuse this hub as men may, they do it "ignorantly," as once heathen gods were worshiped. And such a people can be pardoned for presuming that one who was not born in Boston and did not graduate at Harvard, and has not a lot in Mount Auburn, might better have never been born.

This week the venerable "American Institute of Instruction" will meet in Portsmouth, N. H., and on the 18th the American Scientific Association will assemble in Salem, Massachusetts. Both of these are National Associations and the oldest in their spheres in our country, and the lectures, essays and discussions will be able and instructive.

Last week a Convention of Spiritualists was held in Portland. This afforded a striking contrast to the Convention of the Y. M. C. Associations. It was composed of a different class of persons. They held a different view of Christ. One of their resolutions is, "That while we recognize Jesus, Socrates and Confucius, and all other reformers, as in some sense the Saviours of others, nevertheless it is the imperative duty of man to become his own saviour by living a true life." Here Jesus is classed with Socrates and Confucius as a "reformer" merely, and, "in some sense" only, a Saviour, and man is called upon to become "his own Saviour." This is a very different view of Christ from that held by the former Convention. It is Parkerish or Emmersonian. In proportion to their assumed elevation, being made media of communication from another world, they have detracted from Christ. The revelations to them have diminished their regard for "the revelation"—the Bible. The reason why others are not permitted to hold in tercourse with the departed is, as we heard one affirm, that they are not pure enough. Then our astonishment was the more increased that he could be a medium. Of his intercourse with the departed we, however, saw no evidence. Arrogant assertion took the place of true knowledge, and yet some of them are learned men and are sincere. They really believe they are in daily communication with their departed loved ones. They claim Prof. Stowe as one of their number. In "Oldtown Folks" we think there is evidence that the distinguished authoress sympathizes with some of their views. And there are many who, from facts which have come to their knowledge, or from having read "Footfalls on the boundaries of another world," believe there is something as yet unexplained in this whole matter—that there is some truth in it, although it may be far less and far different from what many spiritualists claim and which it may require a century or centuries to solve. The whole subject now is too much in the hands of ignorant men who assume as facts what are not such, and who adopt unwarranted theories to account for phenomena.

Spiritualism did not originate in New England, neither does it especially thrive here, except in one or two cities. There are errors and heresies outside of New England. Freedom to think will lead to differences of belief; the freedom is a blessing and the differences of belief may not be an evil. Some may embrace erroneous and injurious doctrines. Unmixed good is seldom found. Very many out of New England have very false notions of the theology and different religious denominations here. Yet nowhere do they contend for, and maintain, better, the truth. They may express themselves in different phraseology from their fathers. They claim this right. Congregationalists and Unitarians are here distinct, entirely separate. Little differences, however, do not always cause permanent divisions here. Pittsburgh has more than twice as many different denominations as Portland.

For Cholera—A Remedy.

In view of the prevalence of cholera morbus and similar complaints, it may not be out of place to publish the following prescription, which has been pretty thoroughly tested for many years:

Laudnum, 2oz; spirits of camphor, 2 oz; tincture of capsicum, ½ oz; tincture of ginger, 1 oz; essence of peppermint, 2 oz; Hoffmans anodyne, 2 oz. If the anodyne cannot be readily obtained, substitute sulphuric ether—half the quantity.

Mix thoroughly and shake well every time it is used. Give or take from ten to twenty-five drops, according to age, condition, or violence of attack. Repeat every ten minutes till relief is obtained. In a desperate case take a tablespoonful at once. Take it in an equal quantity of water, and lie on the back quietly, or in an easy sitting posture with the back supported, till it has full oppurtunity to work. Carry a small phial in the pocket, with a few lumps of white sugar upon which to drop it, to be used in sudden emergencies.

AN ingenious German of New Britain, Conn., named Lindner, during recent confinement with disease, made a remarkable piece of mechanism. It consists of a complicated clock-work, inclosed in a miniature castle. A watchman walks round the tower, completing his circuit once in fifteen minutes. Once in fifteen minutes a porter opens a gate in the castle, steps out, and then retires, closing the gate after him. At eleven o'clock the main entrance of the castle opens, and a number of figures appear under the arch, and remain while a music box within plays several airs. Figures also appear now and then at the windows. On the top of the castle is a ball, one side gilded and the other black. The gilded side turns from behind a screen with the moon, indicating the changes of the planet from the first quarter to the full.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

There is but little change to notice in the oil market. The stagnation which has prevailed for some time past still continues, and what is worse still there are no idications at present of any immediate improvement. The great trouble lies in the inequality of prices, and until prices are equalized, the dullness which now exists must of necessity continue. It is true, the great majority of our refining establishments are still in operation, but it is also true that they are engaged in workinging up old contracts; no fresh sales are being made, nor is it likely that there will be when a loss would be the inevitable result to the manufacturer, by so doing. Unless there is a radical change in prices, in this respect, manufacturers will be obliged to suspend operations, and were it not for the fact that many of them are sold ahead, there is no doubt but what there would be a large number of refineries standing idle to-day. Perhaps it would be a good thing for the trade if our refiners would "shut-down," and there are many who entertain this view of the matter, as in that event one of two things would occur, Refined would advance or crude decline, and this is just what is desired by the trade generally—it makes but little difference which.

On the 6th of August, 1868, Crude sold at 14½ on spot; 14¼ for August and September; 13 seller all year; Refined at 34⅞ for August; 36 for September, and 33½ October to March. At the present time Crude is quoted at 14¾@15, on spot or this month: refined at 31¾@32 on spot; 32¼ for last half of this month, while none of the late months will command above 32¾@33. Manufacturers did considerable grumbling about small margins last year, and if they had reason to complain then, they certainly have a much better case to growl about this year.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 6, 1869.

Metal is quiet, and as is usually the case at this season of the year, rather dull, still the feeling, generally, is reported better, under the influence of an expected good fall trade, and while the volume of business is light, there is, nevertheless considerably inquiry, and manufacturers are sounding the market, to ascertain what round lots can be purchased at for early deliveries. It is true, the manufacturing business has not been at all satisfactory during the past year, a sharp competition having caused very small margins, yot, with every appearance of an improvement in business this fall, the mill men are disposed to lay in supplies of metal, and this impression has created a better feeling.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is falling with three feet teroe inches in the channel. Weather yesterday remarkably cool, as at no time did the mercury rise above 70 in the shade, and in the morning it was down to 60.

—The Glendale, from St. Louis, is among the first boats due.

—The R. C. Gray was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

—Capt. A. McConnell, clerk of the Arkansas, returned home the other day,

—Captain David White says that his suits against the Nashville folks will be called in September.

—The new steamer Jefferson, Capt. G. W. Rea, is announced to leave for St. Louis on Tuesday next.

after an absence of nearly a year. His numerous friends will be glad to learn that he is in good health.

—Mr. Joseph S. Pagaud, river reporter of the New Orleans Picayune, has gone to Paris with his family.

—The silve Bow has entered the Miami trade. Capt. Tom Rea in command, and Charles A. Faris in the office.

—The Kate Putnam and Lorena arrived at St. Louis on Wednesday, and the Bellevernon left there the same day for Pittsburgh.

—The Mayflower is laid up at New Orleans. She will have her upper guards taken off, and be put in order for the Ouachita trade.

—David S. Green, of Denver, Colorado Territory, sold the steamer Mason to Michael McCawley, of Brooklyn, Ill., on Monday, at Evansville.

—Wilson Bernard, son of Captain John Bernard, an old Tennessee River pilot, died at St. Joseph's Infirmary, in Louisville, Tuesday, of consumption, after an illness of five months.

—The Northern Line Packet Company, of St. Louis, have contracted for a new boat here, something similar to the Minneapolis, and it is said that the same company is about to contract for another.

—The towboat Jim Watson, while on her way te Evansville from Tennesee river, ran against a snag, which knocked down one chimney, went through the pilot house, and came very near knocking the safe into the river.

—There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report, and the Kenton for Portsmouth, was the only departure This will be the last trip of the Kenton for a time, as she will go on the dock at Middleport for repairs.

—The Government boat, C. J. Caffrey, last week, scraped on Pig's Eye, Red Rock and Gray Cloud bars, in the upper Mississippi, so as to give a channel depth of four feet—enough for the largest boats that run to St. Paul. She also pulled a half dozen dangerous snags.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial: Capt. Henry A. Jones, was severely injured at his residence by a terrific fall, on Monday night, he was doning well yesterday, and pronounced out of danger by his physician. It appears the accident was not caused by an atack of vertigo, but that he accidently missed his foothold while passing from the bath-room to his chamber. He is resting easy, yet at times suffers considerable pain in the neck. shoulders, and one side of his head. He hopes soon to be about again.

—A correspondent writing to the Cincinnati Enquirer, dated at Ford's Mills, Ohio, furnishes the following: At nine o'clock this morning, a smoke was discovered in the after part of the main deck on the new steamer Mollie E. Gilpin. The discovery was made too late to do any good, as the flames had gotten too much the start, and in spite of all efforts used to save her, in less than a half hour the boat was utterly consumed. The fire is supposed to have originated from sparks from the blacksmith's forge. She was built and owned by Captain Charles L. Gilpin, of New Orleans, and intended for the New Orleans, Shreveport and Jefferson trade. The boat was insured for twenty thousand dollars.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SECURITY AND COMFORT for the traveling community.

J. B. HARRIS
Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto, I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

IN a late number of the North German Correspondent, an English journal published in Berlin, we see it stated that there are sixty American students at the University of Berlin. Heidelberg, Bonn, Jena, Leipzig, and the great mining school at Freiberg, have each probably as many more. If these young men desired to do so, they could not get nearly as thorough an education in this country as they can at these German seats of learning. Surely this cannot be right. America ought to lead the world in this matter as she does in the general diffusion of rudimentary education.

THE OHIO DEMOCRACY are in trouble. Their nominee for Governor, Gen. ROSECRANS, is likely to be proven a citizen of California, and therefore not eligible. Nor, otherwise, is it certain that he will accept the very doubtful honor of this selection. The Copperhead wing of the party—which, in Ohio as in Pennsylvania, comprehends about all that it has of original pure and unadulterated Democracy—seriously meditates upon the expediency of protesting, by way of a bolt, against the nomination of one of "Lincoln's hirelings." These uncompromising politicians have called a State Convention for the 28th of this month, to decide upon the best course. It may have also the agreeable duty of voting upon the declination of ROSECRANS. In the meantime, the leaders of the party, from all parts of the State, were reported at Columbus yesterday, as in council over the embarrassing situation.

THE Dispatch recently suggested that the proprietors of the Allegheny Suspension Bridge should have placed in some prominent position on the bridge a tablet upon which should be engraved the name of the builder of the bridge, and such other important facts concerning that great work as might seem appropriate to be recorded. The suggestion is a good one and should, we think, in some manner be carried out. But it would add much to the beauty of the bridge, if, instead of a mere tablet, a bust, or full length statue of Mr. ROEBLING, were substituted. A bust might be placed in a niche in one of the central pier towers, or a statue could be placed in the centre of Federal street where it widens at the Allegheny end of the bridge. Many of the most celebrated bridges in the world are adorned with statuary, and Mr. ROEBLING's fame as the greatest bridge engineer in the world would amply warrant any such action on the part of the stockholders in this structure, one of his grandest undertakings.

THERE is much discussion in the secular and religious press in regard to the course taken by the counsel of Rev. Mr. CHENEY, and the decision of Judge JAMESON in granting an injunction restraining proceedings in the Bishop's court. It appears from the Confession of Faith of the Westminster divines, that the civil magistrate was recognized by them as having authority in such matters. The language of the Confession on this subject is as follows:

"The civil magistrate may not assume to himself the administration of the word and sacraments, or the power of the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven; yet he hath authority, and it is his duty, to take order, that unity and peace may be preserved in the church, that the truth of God be kept pure and entire, that all blasphemies and heresies be suppressed, all corruptions and abuses in worships and discipline prevented or reformed, and all the ordinances of God duly settled, administered and observed. For the better effecting whereof, he hath power to call synods, to be present at them, and to provide that whatsoever is transacted in them be according to the mind of God." Chap. 23. Sec. 3.

It is proper to state that most, if not all, of the Presbyterian Churches in this country have declared in substance, that nothing appertains to the magistratical power in reference to the Church, except the protection of her members in the full possession, exercise and enjoyment of their rights, inasmuch as his office, being civil and political, is exterior to the Church. It is declared further that the civil magistrate has no right to "interfere to regulate matters of faith and worship." His duty is "to protect the person, good name, estate, natural and civil rights of all his subjects, in such a way that no person be suffered, upon any pretence, to violate them; and to take order that all religious and ecclesiastical assemblies, be held without molestation or disturbance."

THE ELECTIONS.

The vote in Kentucky and Alabama has been a light one. In the first the opposition have elected a large majority in each branch of the Legislature, and their State Treasurer, the only officer chosen on a general ticket, has received about two-thirds of the entire poll. Alabama elected six Congressmen and a Legislature on the 3d, but, at this writing, we have no definite returns of the result. The vote of Tennessee on Thursday was larger than the State has ever before given, being for the first time participated in both by the white and colored races. Very nearly the entire of that white element which has hitherto been disfranchised for disloyalty, has been relieved from the disability by the policy of Gov. SENTER in the administration of the registry-law. It will surprise no one, who has observed the course of the canvass in that State, to learn that SENTER is re-elected by a very large majority and that the opponents of radical Republicanism, comprising Democratic Conservatives and rebels, have full control of the new Legislature. This body will elect an U. S. Senator, and will also proceed to reverse the existing policy of the State in reference to the suffrage. It is probable that every white citizen will be legally enfranchised, and that the colored suffrage will be materially restricted, if not altogether prohibited for the future. Yet, upon these questions and that of the Senatorship, there are possibly the elements of great discord among the Legislative majority, and the final results may disappoint to some extent the rebel expectations. It will be some days before we can have definite returns of Thursday's poll.

PROGRESS WITH THE INDIANS.

Here it is well past the mid-summer, and we hear nothing yet of the threatened Indian war. Isolated cases of hostile outrages have been reported, but nothing at all which realizes the fearful apprehensions so generally felt at the opening of the Spring. Indeed these fears did not seem wholly groundless. In April and May, the whole broad Indian territory, from between the head-waters of the Missouri and of the Arkansas and Red rivers, was fruitful of rumors of a general war. We had quite reliable advices of such threatening preparations among all the leading tribes, as to justify an almost universal expectation that the Plains would witness, during the current year, the last bloody struggle of these savages against the encroachments of civilization. There are good reasons for believing that the danger did actually exist,—while the peaceful repose of more than one-half the season in which Indian hostilities are practicable, affords the most acceptable proof that the peril has been averted. The entire Indian territory is to-day at peace.

For this pacific situation we are much indebted to the vigorous campaigning of our troops under SHERIDAN and his lieutenants in the late autumn of last year, and even in the deep snows and bitter frost of December and January. The predatory tribes were pursued to their fastnesses, months after the period when their former experience had guaranteed to them a temporary exemption from any show of our military power, and the severest chastisements ever visited upon these savages were delivered in a winter campaign which was without parallel either for its hardships or for its success.

But not even their punishments would have alone sufficed to secure our frontier from the renewal, in 1869, of Indian aggressions. With these tribes, we now know that, as our own policy has been hitherto administered, peace was robbery, destitution, starvation and death. Depending wholly upon the faithful execution of our treaty-engagements for their supplies of ammunition and of that limited variety of other material which satisfies the Indian needs and constitutes the Indian wealth, the tribes were systematically defrauded by our Agents, while our unprincipled traders, licensed and unlicensed, held them by the throat. They were annually driven into hostilities against the frontier, as their only recourse to supply themselves with the necessaries of savage life. A tribe which found itself robbed of the stipulated supplies of ammunition and blankets, found as regularly its only alternative to be either starvation or war. The disgraceful facts which have, year after year, been asserted, accounting in this way for the annually recurring Indian wars, have at last secured the most complete proof.

The new Indian policy of the present has completed by peaceful means the work which SHERIDAN's arms began, and the conviction that white faith is to be honorably kept ensures that repose for our frontier which no respect for our military power, ample as that has been proved, could permanently command among these wretched savages. For the first time in the history of our dealings with the Indians, existing treaties are fulfilled, this year, in their letter and spirit, and every tribe which roams over our territories, or is encamped on the reservations set apart for their homes, is content with a peace which gives to them protection and the supply of their indispensable necessities. Peace Commissions, enlightened and faithful Superintendents and Agents of capacity and integrity are fast bringing the Indian problem to a satisfactory solution. These are the instrumentalities which have not only averted, for this year, that war of extermination which seemed unavoidable in the Spring, but which, sustained faithfully in the future, must finally accomplish the peaceful civilization of the savage tribes.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Hon. John Scott, United States Senator from this State, during the last session of Congress was besieged by office seekers; but gained a quiet Sabbath by placing on the door of his apartment the following notice: All who desire my influence in obtaining or retaining office will materially advance their interests by not calling upon me on the Sabbath day.

It will be remembered that the late General Assembly, by resolution, warned the Church against the sin of fœticide. The New York Observer, in referring to this action, thinks the crime not so common among the female members of the Church as to render such a warning necessary. Letters, however, have been received from different parts of the country testifying to the frequency of the crime. The Observer's credulity is now shaken. One physician in a small town reports three cases where he had been applied to aid in child-murder; one application being by an Old School Presbyterian minister, another by a lady who was tempted by reading an advertisement in a paper edited by a New School Presbyterian, and a third by a member of Methodist church.

Frequently paragraphs appear quoting singular remarks of ministers, without stating name or denomination. We always like to know the name and affinity of these would-be-over-wise ministers. The following is an illustration: It is reported a Chicago preacher recently refused to say grace at the table, saying it was a mere formality, and "the best grace was to eat moderately, well digest your meal, and then go to work and earn another." For the same reason he refused to pronounce the benediction.

Dr. Boggs, who felt aggrieved, because Mr. Tyng officiated in his parish in New Brunswick, New Jersey, has resigned his rectorship, and become a general missionary for the diocese.

The Baptist Home Mission Board are asking seventy thousand dollars from the churches for the education of colored preachers in the schools of the South.

It is stated that more than a dozen Philadelphia clergymen have united in the determination to attend no more Sunday funerals unless the necessity is certified to by a physician.

Two Christians had quarreled in the morning; in the evening one of them sent a note to the other: "Brother, the sun is going down." Nothing further was needed to effect a reconciliation.

The effect upon the prisoners in the Penitentiary at Joilet, Illinois, from holding prayer meetings and other services, induces the belief in the Warden that he could, with safety, commence reducing the guard force. These prayer meetings are held on the Sabbath, and it is proposed to have a Wednesday prayer meeting and use Saturday for school. There is a Christian Association organized and in fine working condition in the prison.

Father Paxon, the veteran Sunday School worker, thinks that a Sunday school born in a snow storm will never be scared by a white frost.

Mission Sunday schools flourish at St. Louis in true western style of enterprise. The Advance speaks of several successful schools of this character. The South Mission numbers some thirteen hundred scholars. It was started ten years ago by General Clinton B. Fiske, a whole souled Methodist layman, and his excellent wife. The General has recently started a new enterprise that may in time rival the South Mission. Benton Street Mission, under the superintendence of our friend, Mr. Edward D. Jones, formerly Cashier of the Citizens National Bank of this city, weekly gathers in a thousand children. Biddle Market Mission has an attendance of nine hundred. The Superintendent, Mr. Morrison, used to be a draymen, and is now a successful merchant.

Deacon Carpenter, of Chicago, offers to forward President Finney's book on Masonry to the first thousand ministers who apply, and enclose twenty cents each for the postage on the same. Apply to Rev. A. Ritchie, 176 Elm street, Cincinnati.

The Congregational churches of New Bedford, says the Advance, have decided to devote Sabbath forenoons to Sunday school, and the afternoon to preaching.

The official minutes of the last Ohio Congregational Conference show the following: Churches, one hundred and eighty-nine, and one hundred and twenty ministers. Pastors, twenty-four; acting pastors, eighty-nine; without pastoral charge, twenty-nine.

The Protestant Churchman gives a case of competition between the choir and the pulpit in a Massachusetts parish, that is humiliating. Two parties existed in the Church, one favoring "fine music," and the other was anxious to have good preaching. The matter was finally compromised by allowing those who desired to devote their subscriptions to the payment of ths choir, to designate the fact. After the society was canvassed, it was found that seventeen hundred dollars was subscribed for singing, and only eighteen hundred dollars for preaching. Some of the contributors signed $25, $50, and $100 "for singing"—not a cent for preaching. The sequel may be imagined, discord and discontentment existed.

The new Chicago Congregational Theological Seminary, in course of erection on Union Park, is arranged that each suit has a study room and two bedrooms, which are both lighted from the outside.

Rev. G. I. Francis, of the last Senior Class in the Western Theological Seminary, Allegheny City, has received a unanimous call from the Old School Presbyterian church of Freeport, Pa.

Rev. Mr. Murray, of Park Street Congregational church, Boston, has gone on his customary summer hunting expedition, accompanied by a number of ladies and gentlemen. To the lambs of the flock, says Zion's Herald, who are crying for his presence and comfort may be sung the old nursery rhyme, "Hush-a-by, baby, bunting," etc.

Quite an unusual religious interest prevails in the Reformed (Dutch) church of Clarkstown, Rockland, N. Y. Profane and ungodly men, whose evening haunts were the village store and bar-room, have been made new creatures in Christ Jesus.

The new Metropolitan church in Washington City, of the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church, just dedicated, cost seventy thousand dollars. The Washington members gave forty thousand dollars. By request of the Bishops a collection was to be taken up for it in all the churches of that denomination.

THE OIL TRADE.

Interesting to Oil Shippers—Who Shall Lose by Leakage—The Question Settled.

Friday morning Judge McCandless, in the United States District Court, delivered the opinion of the Court in the case of the United States vs. Brewer et. al., which was argued some days since. The case attracted great attention among oil dealers, and as given below will be found very interesting and important:

THE CIRCUMSTANCES.

This is a case stated upon an oil transportation bond. On the 30th of June, 1865, the defendants shipped by railroad from the Twentieth District of Pennsylvania to the Fifth District of New Jersey 1,080 barrels, containing 45,324 gallons of refined oil, in good packages and under legal permits and certificates from the proper authorities. Under like authority the oil was removed from the Fifth District of New Jersey to the bonded warehouse of Reynolds, Pratt & Co., in the Second District of New York, without inspection and gauging in the New Jersey District, with the same effect as if the Second District of New York had been the destination set forth in the permit and bond under which such transportation was made.

The oil was properly gauged and inspected in the bonded warehouse of Reynolds, Pratt & Co., on the 30th of July, 1866. By this inspection there was found to be a loss of 6,264 gallons. For the tax of twenty cents per gallon upon this quantity so lost, this action is instituted; the tax upon the residue of the 45,824 gallons having been properly settled and accounted for. The effect of continued extremely hot weather upon oil barrels, exposed for the length of time ordinarily required in transit from the Twentieth District of Pennsylvania to the Second District of New York, is to decompose their lining and open their seams. From the last of June to the close of July, 1866, the weather continued excessively hot. The loss of so much of the 6,264 gallons as exceeds the quantity allowed for leakage, by the regulations of the Department at Washington, arose from the effect of solar heat upon the barrels containing it.

The amount of actual leakage on oil removed in bond at the time of this loss, allowed by the regulations in pursuance of the sixty-first section of the Act of the 30th June, 1864, was not to exceed three and one-half per cent. on any distance exceeding five hundred miles. The distance from the Twentieth District of Pennsylvania to the Second District of New York is in excess of five hundred miles.

It is not disputed that an allowance of one thousand, five hundred and eighty-six gallons, or three and one-half per cent. on 45,324 gallons, should be made for leakage, but it is claimed that there should be a deduction for the remaining four thousand, six hundred and seventy-eight gallons, because the loss was occasioned by the effect of solar heat upon the article transported.

This is the question for our decision, and I have given to it all the consideration which the multiplicity of my judicial engagements and the demands upon my time would permit.

OIL EXPORT REGULATIONS.

Congress wisely encouraged the exportation of oil, for it has become an important element in regulating the balance of trade between the United States and foreign nations. Oil exported was exempt from taxation. If for sale or consumption in the United States, it was subject to a tax of twenty cents per gallon, to be assessed and collected, and paid by the producer or manufacturer thereof, as is provided by the ninety-fourth section of the act of July 13, 1866. By the sixty-first section (act third, March, '65,) the oil may be removed, without the payment of the duty, under such rules and regulations, and upon the execution of such transportation bonds, or other security, as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. Upon such removal it must be transferred to a bonded warehouse, where it is again inspected and gauged, and "the duty shall be assessed and paid on any deficiency or reduction of the number of gallons (beyond such allowance for leakage, as may be established by the regulations of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue) received at the warehouses from the number of gallons as stated in the bond at the place of shipment." Here there is a plain rule of computation, and the per centum of deduction being fixed by a regulation of the Department, in conformity to an Act of Congress, becomes a part of the law and of as binding force as if incorporated in the body of the Act.

TAX ON OIL.

It is contended by defendants' counsel, in an argument of much ability, that the tax is upon the consumption. It is not upon the consumption, but upon the manufactured article. The government is not to ascertain whether it has been consumed, but whether it has been exported. If so, it is free. If not, it is subject to the tax of twenty per cent. per gallon. Fixing a maximum per centage for leakage, was designed to prevent the possibility of frauds, by the withdrawal or abstraction of any portion of the oil during its period of transit. Such being the rule prescribed by competent authority, courts have no right to depart from it, even in case of absolute loss by the action of the elements. The Government is not an insurer. The owner incurs, and must take the resposibility. The simple inquiry is, has he complied with the condition of his bond? Has he produced to the Collector of the Twentieth District of the State of Pennsylvania a certificate showing that such merchandise has been duly placed in the warehouse designated, from which it cannot be removed except for exportation, or, upon payment of the tax, or has he paid the duties required by law?

THE LEAKAGE.

It is wholly unnecessary to enter into a discussion as to the effect of solar heat upon refined oil, or as to the penetrating and permeating qualities of the liquid itself. It was precisely because of the operation of this agency that a rule was necessary to fix the allowance. In some cases there would be no leakage at all, in some less than three and a half per cent.; in a majority of cases about three and a half per cent., and in some cases much more. On what principle is a rule of law governing this subject to be relaxed and set aside, because there was extraordinary warm weather in June or July of a particular year? As was ably argued by the counsel for the Government, that the leakage in this case happened in the ordinary way, was produced by the ordinary causes, with the difference, that one cause, solar heat, was operating with more than ordinary power. The result was leakage, and the law, and the regulations of the Department, do not authorize a distribution of leakage into ordinary and extraordinary as respects an abatement of taxes. The law calls the loss thus produced leakage, and has provided a rule regulating the allowance, from which, however great the hardship, it is not our province to depart. Any other construction would not only open a wide door to fraud, but would practically nullify the regulation itself.

DECISION.

It follows that the defendants have no lawful claim to or deduction for the four thousand six hundred and seventy-eight gallons, by reason of its loss, caused by solar heat, and judgment must be rendered for the United States for the sum of nine hundred and thirty-five dollars and sixty cents, with costs of suit. Judgment accordingly.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Monthly Meeting—Reports of Health Officers—Clearing the Streets, &c.

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock the Board of Health met at their office, on Fourth avenue. Dr. A. H. Gross presided, Mr. F. P. Case, Secretary pro. tem.

Present: Messrs. Gross, Case, Wilson and Craig.

MONTHLY REPORTS.

After the reading of the minutes, Mr. Crosby Gray, Health Officer, presented his monthly report, showing that ninety-eight nuisances had been abated in various parts of the city under his jurisdiction. He also reported seventy-six dollars realized from permits during the month. At the same time $9,85 had been expended, leaving a balance on hand of $66,15. During the month two cases of small-pox had occurred, one of which proved fatal. The other patient is recovering.

Mr. J. B. Williams, Assistant Health Officer, also reported that one hundred and forty-five nuisances had been abated according to his notifications during the month.

From the report of the Meat Inspector, Mr. Adam Weaver, it appeared that he had made six hundred and eighty-three visits during the month to the markets, and the various meat shops throughout the city. In that time he had condemned twenty seven lots, ranging from small pieces to some of one hundred and fifty pounds weight. The principal part of the condemned article was corned beef. The report gave the number of meat shops in the city, sixty-four, classified as follows:

No. 1's all right	20
No. 2's doing pretty well	30
No. 3's still pretty hard	14
Total	64

The reports were all accepted and filed.

CLEARING THE STREETS.

Mr. Gray presented the article of agreement authorized by, and between the Board and certain parties who were granted sole privilege to remove all carcasses and similar refuse matters from the streets and alleys in the city, with the provision that the work be done daily, and under the supervision of the Board.

The agreement was duly signed and accompanied by the required bond of $1,500, from the parties, for the faithful performance of the contract.

The agreement and bond were approved.

A PERFUMED NOTE.

The Secretary read a communication, in which the writers petioned for license to conduct their business, of cleaning cess pools, &c. The petitioners set forth that they had complied with the ordinance in the matter by procuring three new air tight box carts and all the other required appliances for conducting the business with dispatch. From their plaintive appeal it appeared trade was quite brisk. They mildly suggested that as several jobs were on hand, and they were anxious to commence work, if a license were granted before the adjournment of the Board, it would be highly acceptable.

The Secretary, after perusing the document to its close and closely scanning the chirography, intended as an indication of the signers thereto, laid it on the table with great gravity and announced himself outflanked. The President adjusted his spectacles astride his Grecian proboscis, the other members displayed their handkerchiefs in brightening up their vision, and five minutes were impressively whiled away in the attempt to decipher from whom the urgent missive emanated. Their labors were in vain. The paper was then carefully filed, and a discussion as to the power of the Board to grant the favor asked, next ensued. All the Acts of Assembly in the premises were cited, and finally a decision arrived at that as the Board had already granted the sole privilege of conducting the fragrant trade to a certain individual possessed of patent appliances for the same, and as that period had not yet expired, it was impossible to issue further licenses at the present time.

The Board then ordered warrants to be drawn for the payment of the salaries of the Health officers, and sundry other little bills, after which the meeting adjourned.

Personal.

We clip the following from a Cleveland paper: "Mr. F. R. Myers, long the General Passenger Agent of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroads, and who left railroading some time since to go into the manufacturing business at Canton, in this State, has returned to his first love, and has resumed his old position of General Passenger Agent on the Philadelphia and Chicago line. Mr. Myers is a first class man for the position, and the managers of this important route have done well in securing his services."

DR. KEYSER'S BOWEL CUEE is one of the most valuable remedies ever discovered for all diseases incident to this season of the year. Hundreds of sufferers could be relieved in less than a day by a speedy resort to this most valuable medicine, particularly valuable, when the system is apt to become disordered by the two free use of unripe and crude vegetables.

Price 50 Cents. Sold at DR. KEYSER'S GREAT MEDICINE STORE, 167 Liberty St., and by all druggists.

THE CONDITIONS OF HEALTH,

It is idle to expect health if the precautions necessary to secure it are neglected. The human organization is a delicate piece of mechanism, and requires as much intelligent care and watchfulness to keep it in order, as are requisite in the management of the most complicated combination of levers, wheels and pinions.

At this season of the year the body is peculiarly sensitive, because it is greatly weakened and relaxed by the continuous heat. The skin, in summer, with its millions of pores wide open, is a very different sort of tegument from the compact fibrous covering which it becomes under the action of the winter's cold. The muscles, too, are comparatively flaccid, the nerves tremulous, the blood poor, and the whole frame less capable of enduring fatigue and resisting disease. These indications of a depressed condition of the vital forces are so many unmistakable hints that nature needs reinforcing.

Ordinary stimulants will not effect this object. They inflame and excite, but do not strengthen. The only preparation which can be depended upon to impart staminal vigor to the system, and enable it to endure the ordeal of the heated term without giving way under the pressure, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic and corrective so pure, so harmless, so utterly free from the drawbacks which render many of the powerful astringents employed in medical practice more dangerous than the ailments they are employed to cure, that it may be administered without fear to the feeblest female invalid, or the most delicate child. The cathartic and alterative vegetable ingredients, which are combined with those of a tonic nature in its composition, keep the bowels moderately free and perfectly regular, while the work of invigoration is going on. The finest blood depurents which the herbal kingdom affords are also among its components, so that it recruits, purifies and regulates the system simultaneously.

DISSOLUTION.

The partnership heretofore existing under the name of JOHN THOMPSON & CO. was dissolved on the 1st of July last by the withdrawal of John Thompson. The business will be carried on as usual, at the old establishment, 135 THIRD AVENUE.

JOHN THOMPSON,
ROBERT THOMPSON,
R. C. MILLER.

In retiring from the above firm I would cordially recommend my former partners to my old customers and the public generally, believing that the business will be carried on by them in an honest and upright manner, and I would desire to return my sincere thanks to my friends for the very liberal patronage I have received from them during the thirty-one years I have carried on business in Pittsburgh.

JOHN THOMPSON.

The undersigned, successors to John Thompson & Co., have formed a partnership dating from July first, under the name of

and will continue the business of HOUSE PAINTING, and dealing in PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL FOREIGN GLASS, at the old stand, 135 THIRD AVENUE.

Thankful for the favors of the past we would respectfully ask the continued patronage of our friends and the public, assuring them that we will spare no pains to render satisfaction in every case in which we may be employed.

ROBERT THOMPSON,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Augus 6, 1869.

The Cable dispatches show a decline of American bonds in Europe, in consequence of which gold became stronger, and larger purchases were made in anticipation of a rise. The decline of gold a few days ago was mainly based on better reports from Frankfort concerning the gradual absorbtion of our bonds held there on speculative account. The over speculation at the money centres of Europe in the comparatively worthless securities of some of the European monarchs has opened a new field for our bonds. In Austria, and especially Vienna, large purchases are made for permanent investment and on speculation. A sudden decline in the bonds would increase specie shipments and tend to a firmer rate for exchange and gold.

Government bonds are dull and lower, especially for 1865 and 1868, which suffered a decline of ½ per cent. yesterday. Bonds are now more freely offered and there is a general desire to exchange the present high priced government bonds for some other securities offering equally secure investment. This has directed attention to the Union Pacific Railroad bonds, which bear the same interest as government bonds, and are almost as secure, if not more so.

Gold interest bonds have so far had the preference, but if all that class of securities are run up rapidly, people will naturally turn their attention to muncipal bonds and like investments. The success with which these securities meet in the hands of competent agents, has encouraged enterprises of that kind, and if all who are disposed to invest will have full choice by glancing over some of the circulars sent out by interested parties.

Stocks are stronger and higher, and a fair business is promised for the beginning of the cooler season, on account of the easy money market caused by the large disbursements by the government.

Money not much in demand, at from 8 to 10 per cent., but business requires only a limited amount of borrowed capital.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 6, 1869.

Money easy at 5@7 on call loans—chiefly 6. The demand is very moderate. Sterling dull at 9⅞@10⅛. The engagements of specie for to morrow per European steamers amount to $464,000. Gold dull; opened at 136⅜, fell to 136, and closed at 136¼. Carrying rates 4@6 per cent. Clearances $52,000,000.

State bonds firm but quiet; Missouris 87¼; old Tennessees 62¾; new 55¾; old Virginias 57¾; new 60½; old North Carolinas 56½; new 51¼.

Stock market strong on entire list and generally higher: business more evenly distributed than in the morning. New York Central was the feature of the New York roads and rose to 210. The speculation in western shares was quite animated in Michigan Southern, North Western, Rock Island and St. Paul. The rise in Michigan Southern caused the failure of a small operator on the "bear" side and 1,200 shares were bought in for his account. Michigan Southern sold as high as 110, and Rock Island 117¼. The market closed steady.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August , 1869.

The markets in a general way, are devoid of anything new or really important. The weather continues cool and pleasant and all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out door business, and if it continues for another week, the crops in this, as well as other States, will have been safely and fully secured.

Nor is the fine weather confined to this section of country alone. A letter from Wisconsin to a gentleman of this city, reports that there had not been a drop of rain for two weeks. A correspondent writing from Oshkosh, Wisconsin, to the Chicago Journal, under date of July 31st, says: Ten days and no rain to speak of. Farmers are getting in their crops rapidly. The hay crop is the heaviest we have had for a number of years. The wheat crops look splendid, and the indications are that we shall have a large yield.

Indeed, the advices from all quarters are very favorable and encouraging, and the croakers in regard to the crops will soon have to subside, and as there will be a large surplus of both grain and flour, it is to be hoped that there will be a good foreign demand, and it is altogether likely there will be.

APPLES—In good supply and dull, and we now quote at $3@4 per bbl.

BERRIES—Sales of Blackberries at $6@8 per case, as to quality and condition, and Huckelberries at $5 per bush.

TOMATOES—$1,75@2 per bushel.

Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, August 6.—There is a lighter run of stock and the cold weather helped the markets. Only 950 Cattle arrived to-day; they were of ordinary or medium quality and were sold at 12@16c per pound; the old lots have all been closed out and an advance of ¼@½c is quoted. Of the Alexander cattle, 50 Texans, 5¾ cwt, brought 13c; 320 Illinois, 6½ cwt, 14@15c, and 100 of 7 cwt at 15c average, the top reaching 16c. Sheep; receipts 4,600, and all selling; the market is quicker but at the old rates, a hard lot of State Sheep selling at 4½c; a car of eighty pounds sheep at 5½c; two cars Ohio of 75 pounds at 5c, and 2 cars of 86 pounds at 6½c. No very fat sheep were on sale. A car of 46 pounds Pennsylvania lambs sold at 7c; a lot of Canadas of 60 pounds at 8½c, and some State lambs, same weight, at 9c. Hogs are scarcely as firm, a few sales being at about 12¾c for dressed. Receipts 3,400. Three cars Illinois of two hundred pounds brought 10½c alive.

CHICAGO, August 6.—Cattle dull and inactive; sales at $4.50@5,35 for common to good cows and light steers, $6@7,25 for fair to good shipping steers. Hogs dull and 10@15c. lower; sales at $8,75@9,25 for fair to medium, $9,50@9,75 for good to choice.

A Home for Little Boys.

The London Telegraph gives an account of the Home for Little Boys at Horton Kirby, near Farmington, England. This institution is five years old, and at its recent anniversary celebration the examination of the boys was an interesting part of the programme, as it disclosed not only a high and useful proficiency among the lads in several branches of knowledge, but also an admirable system of "object lessons," after the plan common in Switzerland, Germany and other European countries. The distribution of the prizes followed, Lord Cairns having a word for every boy as he came up to receive the reward of some merit or other. A great many solid and handsome writing desks were given, and then came the books usually selected for school prizes. "Have you ever read 'Robinson Crusoe?" his lordship asked one little lad with a bright and hopeful face. "No, sir," said the boy. "I envy you very much," was the rejoinder. Accordeons, too, were among the prizes; and one can fancy that the dormitories of the seven dwellings will be as full of noises, sounds and sweet airs as Prospero's isle, till Father and Mother both will have had something more than enough of it. One boy, captain of the cricket eleven, walked off under the weight of two bats, a fascis of stumps and a ball. Others had chess and draught boards, with pieces; others had boxes of tools. And it seemed a happy peculiarity of the prize-giving that, unlike the strivers in the world's school, all these little boys got exactly the prizes they wanted.

There are two hundred and ten boys in the Home, a certain proportion of whom may have passed the ten-year boundary while they have been in residence, though the average would be nearer the age of eight or nine years. Here is an analysis of that total of two hundred and ten little boys: Thirty-four have lost both parents, eighty-eight have lost their fathers, thirty-six have lost their mothers, eighteen have been deserted by their fathers, four have been deserted by their mothers, nine have been deserted by both parents, thirteen have both parents living, who are either invalids, or in lunatic asylums or in prison; and eight have parents who are depraved, and who make beggars and thieves of their offspring. In all cases the children have been rescued from ignorance, vice and crime. One of these lads picked up a florin on Saturday on the ground where the military band had been playing. He took it to the leader instantly, and it was owned by a musician, who gave the boy a shilling, though he was about to run off without having waited for so much as bare thanks.

The Oldest City in the World.

Damascus is the oldest city in the world. Tyre and Sidon have crumbled on the shore; Baalbec is a ruin; Palmyra is buried in a desert; Nineveh and Babylon have disappeared from the Tigris and Euphrates. Damascus remains what it was before the days of Abraham—a centre of trade and travel—an island of verdure in the desert—"a presidential capital," with martial and sacred associations extending through thirty centuries. It was near Damascus that Saul of Tarsus saw the light above the brightness of the sun; the street which is called Strait, in which it was said "he prayed," still runs through the city. The caravan comes and goes as it did a thousand years ago; there is still the sheik, the ass and the water wheel; the merchants of the Euphrates and the Mediterranean still "occupy" these "with the multitude of their wares." The city which Mahomet surveyed from a neighboring height, and was afraid to enter "because it was given to man to have but one paradise, and for his part he was resolved not to have it in this world," is to-day what Julian called the "eye of the East," as it was in the time of Isaiah: "the head of Syria."

From Damascus came the damson, our blue plums, and the delicious apricot of Portugal, called damasco, damask, our beautiful fabric of cotton and silk, with vines and flowers raised upon a smooth, bright ground; the damask rose, introduced into England in the time of Henry VIII., the Damascus blade, so famous the world over for its keen edge and wonderful elasticity, the secret of whose manufacture was lost when Tamerlane carried off the artist into Persia; and that beautiful art of inlaying wood and steel with silver and gold, a kind of mosaic engraving and sculptural united, called damaskening, with which boxes, bureaus, swords and guns are ornamented. It is still a city of flowers and bright waters; the streams of Lebanon and the "silk of gold" still murmur and sparkle in the wilderness of the Syrian gardens.

The New Ten-Dollar Counterfeit.

New developments are being made daily concerning the new spurious ten-dollar greenback, specimens of which come to the United States Treasurer's office every day. When the first series was received, General Spinner, on examination, came to the conclusion that they had been put out as a blind for future operations. Although very skilfully executed, they presented so many defects that an experienced person could detect them readily. Thus the public were notified of dots opposite the figures "ten" on each end of the note, the lack of distinct rows of feathers in the left wing of the eagle; the want of a period after the letter "E" in Spinner's name, and various other omissions. Two specimens received to-day bear witness that they are a new issue, for all the defects above referred to have been removed, and the general appearance of the note is so exactly like the genuine that it almost defies detection by professional experts.

One Car from Sea to Sea.

The Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company start two trains a day from New York, the one via the New Jersey Central to Harrisburg, and the other via the Camden and Amboy to Philadelphia, which carry passengers, without change of cars, to Omaha, Nebraska, a distance of about sixteen hundred miles. This stupendous enterprise is to be followed shortly by improved family cars, equipped with beds, furniture, kitchens, &c., for the accommodation of passengers, and will start at Philadelphia and New York direct for Sacramento, without change, a distance of over thirty-three hundred miles. the projector of these moving houses is devoting all his efforts to render them safe and commodious. They will be built of various sizes and capacities. A party or family of fifteen can hire one for the round trip, and can control it as completely during the time they use it as they would a rented tenement.

A SAD casualty occurred near Vanport, two miles below Beaver, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, on Saturday afternoon, resulting in the drowning of a woman and child, and the narrow escape of two men. It seems that Stephen Stone, his wife and child, and a man named Burns, had gone down the river a piece in a skiff to visit some friends. As they were returning, between four and five o'clock, and when they were about going round the bow of the steamboat Hunter, lying at Vanport, the skiff was accidentally upset by Mr. Burns, and the occupants thrown into the water. The employes of the steamer Hunter, attracted by the cries of those in the water, ran to their assistance and succeeded in saving Mr. Burns and Mr. Stone. By this time the woman had arose to the surface of the water and she called to her husband to save her. Mr. Stone immediately ran along the guards of the boat to where his wife was, but he struck his head against a staunchion, and was knocked down almost insensible. His wife appealed to him again to save her or the child, but the husband answered that he could not swim, and ere he had recovered from the shock produced by the collision with the staunchion the loved ones had both sank for the last time. When she begged he would save the child, she held the little thing above the surface of the water, but only for an instant, however, and both sank from sight. The babe was only two years of age. Its body was recovered on Monday morning, but the body of Mrs. Stone had not been recovered at last accounts. Mr. Stone is a farmer by occupation and his wife was a most estimable woman. He has the sympathies of the entire community in his sad bereavement.

COTTON.—While India, Egypt and other countries are using every endeavor to promote the growth of cotton, it may not be uninteresting to compare the advantages enjoyed by the United States over its competitors. The Southern States, it is asserted, have an unrivaled soil and climate for the production of cotton, while the modes of transportation to market, both by river and rail, are cheap and rapid. By an estimate made in 1852, the cotton crop amounted to 3,150,000 pounds, and the number of hands employed was 787,500, and the number of acres cultivated was 6,300,000. The number of acres adapted to cotton cultivation, but not employed in that branch of agriculture, was 39,200,000, and the additional hands required were 4,900,000. Hence, merely by comparing the acres, it appears that the cotton crop of the United States may be increased to 20,000,000 pounds.

DR. LIVINGSTONE.—Mr. H. A. Churchhill, C. B., British Consul and political agent to Zanzibar, speaks with confidence as to the safety of Dr. Livingstone, from whom he has had letters of a date more recently than that of his reported murder. It is Mr. Churchhill's opinion that Dr. Livingstone, having heard of the discovery of the northern portion of Lake Albert Nyanza by Sir S. Baker, has directed his route in search of the southern boundary of that lake, and that in the course of a few months it is probable that further news will be heard from Dr. Livingstone himself.—London Medical Times and Gazette.

MADAME PAREPA-ROSA has organized her English opera troupe for the coming season after the following fashion, it is supposed: Soprani, Madame Parepa-Rosa and Miss Rose Hersee; contralti, Mrs. Seguin and Miss Stockton; baritone, Mr. A. Lawrence; basso, Mr. S. Campbell, tenori, Mr. Castle and Mr. Nordblom, and buffo, Mr. Seguin. Messrs. Carl Rosa and A. Rieff will act as conductors. Mr. De Vivo will be connected with the troupe. Miss Richings has also been vigorously at work with her preparations, and it is said will get the start of Madame Parepa-Rosa in New York about two weeks.

THE Jefferson (Wis.,) Banner says that a German woman, just from the old country, with her husband and family, had a child born at Baltimore while on their way, and as neither she nor the child was in good health, and the doctor thought the latter could not live, after consultation between him and the parents, at Jefferson, it was decided that, as the child could not live, the best plan would be to administer poison and put the little sufferer out of the way at once. The physician administered the dose, and in a few minutes the child was a corpse.

A FEW weeks since, Mr. Thomas Tyre, residing near Stanfield, Clinton County, Missouri, killed a rattlesnake nearly eight feet long, having twenty rattles. Recently he was cradling wheat, when he discovered a large rattlesnake coiled up at his feet. Having nothing but his cradle with which to dispatch the reptile, he caught it on the point of the blade toward himself suddenly, expecting to cut it in two, but instead he threw the snake against his breast. He was terribly frightened but killed his snakeship.

MUCILAGE.—It is stated that the thick, tough sap found in large quantities in the leaves of New Zealand flax may be converted into a gum for sealing envelopes which, when dry, unites the surfaces of paper so thoroughly that no process of steaming or soaking will permit them to be separated again. For this reason it is now being used in large quantities in England, in the preparation of what are called "safety envelopes."

AN OLD fisherman informs the Indianapolis Mirror that bass "bite ferociously and freely just before, during and for a few hours after a total or partial eclipse of the sun. Then they suspend for six weeks. He does not pretend to account for this, but vouches for it as being a fact." Boys addicted to fishing must keep out of the way of the bass next Saturday, if they don't want to be "bitten ferociously."

SOME of the "Scotch Irtsh" convicts in an Irish prison have petitioned the Chaplain not to use hymns in worship, but the Psalms of David, as the former are not insoired. They have finally been persuaded to yield their preferences. If the convicts had shown the same reverence for inspired writing before their incarceration that they now show, they would have saved themselves much trouble.

THE Board of Supervisors of Wood county in June refused to grant license to sell any kind of spirituous or malt liquors. Last Wednesday they rescinded the order and granted license to sell spirituous liquors, such as whisky, brandy, rum, &c., but refused to allow the sale of the more harmless beverages, ale and beer.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city the six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum: 3 mos., $2.

The Eclipse of the Sun.

The eclipse should be observed this afternoon through smoked or dark stained glass. It will commence at forty-six minutes, fifty-six seconds past four o'clock, and end at twenty minutes to seven o'clock. Let nobody fail to witness the sight, as it occurs but once in a generation. Nobody living in this section will ever again see so much of the sun's surface hidden by the interposition of another planet, and the sight will prove a treasure of recollection for a life time.

There is not a single licensed bar room in Washington county.

Amusements.—The boat race and the eclipse of the sun this afternoon.

The Boat race to-day will certainly be held on the Monongahela river course.

The Thermometer registered only sixteen degrees above freezing point yesterday morning at day-break. Cold enough for August.

The police telegraph dial has been removed from Justice Janeey's office to that of Deputy Mayor Nichols, at the head of Forty-first street.

The Heighth of Perfection.—A single application of the Milk of Violets delights and pleases every lady who makes the trial. Sold by all druggists and fancy goods dealers.

Grand Hop.—The first Grand Hop of the season will be given at the Mountain House, Cresson Springs, on Saturday evening, August 7th. Music by Fehling's Band, of Philadelphia.

Personal.—Cyrus L. Pershing, Esq., Democratic candidate for the Supreme bench, was in the city yesterday on his way from the commencement of Washington and Jefferson College.

Injured by a Fall.—John Whitefield, a resident of Tarentum, employed as a laborer at the county Work House, fell from the second to the first floor, Thursday afternoon, and received injuries which it is feared will prove fatal.

Resignation.—Rev. J. S. Hawk, pastor of the United Presbyterian congregation of East Liberty, has been released from his charge, and granted a certificate to connect with another Presbytery. His pulpit was declared vacant on Sabbath last.

Mr. John Hemphill, of Derry county, Ireland, will preach in the First U. P. church, Allegheny city, on Sabbath morning at ten and a half o'clock, and in the Third Presbyterian church, in Pittsburgh, on Sabbath evening at seven and a half o'clock.

Personal.—Col. Gus. Husselbaugh, the attentive and popular messenger of the Allegheny Councils, has just returned from a pleasant trip to Butler. The Colonel seems to have been well entertained during his stay in the hospitable town, and returns looking more bright and charming than ever.

The Eclipse will form the subject of a discourse by Rev. Alex. Clark, to-morrow morning, in the First Methodist Church, Fifth Avenue, above GAZETTE office. In the evening Mr. C. will deliver the sixth lecture of the course on The Personal Deity, as seen in his works. Special theme—Animals.

Horses Killed.—During the prevalence of the thunder storm on Wednesday evening, three valuable horses were standing under a tree in an open field, in Shaler township, when the tree was shivered by a stroke of lightning, which at the same time killed the horses. They belonged to Mr. James Wible, and were all valuable animals.

Off to Chicago.—Yesterday a delegation of Turners left for Chicago, to participate in the Turnerverein. The delegation numbered about fifty, thirty of whom were from this city and the others from Allegheny. They paraded the streets to the depot headed by the Germania Brass Band, and attracted considerable attention.

Burglary on Penn Street.—Last night an attempt to rob the house of Mr. N. Holmes, No, 107 Penn street, was discovered by the police. The folks are away from home, and the thief or thieves broke in through a back door, when they thoroughly ransacked the interior. It is not known how much they secured for their pains. There is no trace of them.

Election of Teachers.—The following teachers have been elected in the Lawrenceville (Fifteenth ward) sub-district, to serve dnring the ensuing year: Principal—Mr. L. F. Patterson. Grammar Department—Miss Louisa C. Ahlborn. Intermediate—Misses A. L. Mac Lachlan and R. Ewing. Primary—Misses Maggie Garret, Maggie Cromlish, M. Cuddy and Sophia Hoyer.

The "Keystone."—Messrs. S. M. Kier & Co., proprietors of the celebrated Keystone Pottery, have on hand at their warehouse, No. 363 Liberty street, a very large stock of Queensware and Glassware of the Keystone manufacture, which will be found equal to the best in the market, and is sold at prices which defy competition. An examination of the stock will convince the most incredulous.

Felonious Assault.—Mrs Ellen J. Riley stated to Alderman McMasters, yesterday, that Mrs. Susan Dean had struck her on the head with a bucket, and accompanied the action with flourishing a huge knife, and manifesting an exceedingly warlike spirit. Mrs Dean is proprietress of a small grocery on Wylie street, and the difficulty originated in a business misunderstanding between them. She was held for Court.

Erratic Driving.—Louis Kennemeyer was in an uncertain condition yesterday, caused by too frequent potations. In an excess of spirits he endeavored to amuse himself by driving the milk cart on which he presides into collision with other vehicles, in his course. His erratic driving attracted the attention of a policeman. Louis was arrested and left the Mayor's office minus two dollars, the amount of a fine imposed.

Robbery in Allegheny.—Thursday morning Mr. Hugh Ward, proprietor of a bakery on Palo Alto street, Second ward, Allegheny, hired a new hand in his establishment. Yesterday the new hand disappeared at an early hour in the morning, very mysteriously, taking with him a silver watch, ten dollars in money and a suit of clothing, all the property of a fellow-workman, with whom he had retired to bed the evening previous. The police are anxious to see this new hand, but thus far have no traces of him.

Distressing Accident—Little Girl Run Over by the Cars and Terribly Mangled.

Yesterday afternoon a distressing accident occurred to a little girl in Allegheny. She was engaged with her sister, a year or two older, in picking up coal on the railroad crossing of the Fort Wayne road, at North avenue. Trains were passing backward and forward at intervals, and the switch tender observing the children ordered them away. They failed to heed his demand and continued their employment with apparently no fear of danger. The little girl, aged about ten years, was standing on the track when a train approached, and to avoid it she stepped aside to the other track. At this instant a train coming from an opposite direction, which she had not observed, struck and knocked her down, with one leg over the rail and the other foot resting upon it. The wheels in an instant passed over, severing the leg just below the knee and cutting several toes off the foot. She was picked up immediately and conveyed in an insensible condition to a house near by, when a physician was summoned. After her injuries had been attended as well as the circumstances of the case would permit, the victim was taken to her home in the Eighth ward, Allegheny, where she at present lies in a precarious condition. Her escape from instant death in a marvel, but it is yet feared the injuries will prove fatal. We could not ascertain her name. No blame for the accident is attached to any person connected with the railroad, as the girls had been warned of the danger and commanded to leave the vicinity several times.

Death from a Fall.

Yesterday afternoon Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body of Micheal McCarthy who died from the effects of a fall. The deceased boarded at Schmerer's hotel on Ohio street near East Lane, Third ward, Allegheny. Last Monday evening he retired to his room in an intoxicated condition, but during the night attempted to get down stairs again, in doing so he fell from the head of the flight to the foot, and struck the lower landing with his head, causing his skull to be fractured. He was picked up, and a physician called in. The next morning he was removed to Mercy Hospital, where he suffered until Thursday evening at six o'clock, death at that time coming to his relief. From the time he was hurt, until he died, he was in a comatose state.

Dr. Brashear, the attending physician, was examined and testified that death resulted from concussion of the brain, and the jury so rendered their verdict. Deceased was a widower, and so far as could be ascertained he had no friends in this vicinity. He had been boarding at the hotel named about four weeks when the accident occurred.

Caught Again.

James Stewart was before Mayor Drum again yesterday. James has been there several times. Some weeks ago he was arrested, tried and acquitted of robbing a grocery store in Allegheny. Yesterday he was charged with stealing a pair of gaiters from Mr. Henry Wagoner, proprietor of a shoe store in the Sixth ward, Allegheny. He entered the store, it is alleged, examined several pairs of gaiters and went out without buying. A pair of the gaiters was missed simultaneously almost with his disappearance. Mr. Wagoner started in pursuit and overhauled him with the gaiters in Niehas' dry goods store, a short distance away. He was immediately arrested and taken to the lock-up. When searched a pair of "outsiders" was found upon him. At the hearing he was fully identified by Mr. Wagoner, who had made an information against him, and by Mr. Niehas. In default of $1,000 bail the Mayor committed him on a charge of larceny.

Row at a Circus.

Last night about nine o'clock a party of roughs attempted to break into Noyes' circus, which is on exhibition in East Birmingham. They were prevented by the doorkeeper, and immediately commenced an onslaught on the establishment. Stones, bricks and clubs were freely used, and for a time affairs were lively. At length the proprietor of the circus finding expostulation in vain, fired into the crowd, wounding one man, and causing the other cowards to quickly disperse. The wounded man was shot through the arm but not dangerously injured. The affair created great excitement for a time, and fears of a great riot were entertained. It is said this is the third or fourth depredation committed by the roughs in the South Side during the past week. The police are powerless to stop them.

Trouble About a Note.

L. Malone made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, against James K. Armstrong for false pretence. Armstrong is a cigar dealer on Fifth avenue. It is alleged that he persuaded the prosecutor to endorse a note for two hundred dollars by representing that he would turn over as security a certain number of shares in a Building and Loan Association, which he failed to do. The note was protested and Malone is held for the amount. The accused was committed to jail in default of bail for a hearing on Monday.

Three Citizens.—Herman Hopfield, Benjaman Bowers and John Cash were before Mayor Drum, last evening. Herman behaved very improperly at a late hour Thursday night in Duquesne Borough (Eighth ward) to the annoyance of the neighborhood. West street, in the Third ward, about the sametime was the scene of Benjamin's operations. He managed to drive sleep away from every dwelling in the vicinity by his stentorian voice. Mr. Cash resides on East Lane and engaged in an evening entertainment—whipping his wife—which was not relished by persons hearing her screaming, who caused his arrest. The parties were all fined five dollars each.

School Rooms to Let.—Those elegant, well-lighted and thoroughly ventilated suit of school rooms, well furnished and supplied in best of modern style, lately occupied as a Normal Institute by Prof. H. I. Gourley, in Phelans' Iron Building, No. 24 Fifth avenue, are offered for rent at a very reasonable figure. We can imagine no better location, or no better opportunity for those wishing to establish a select school than this, and recommend it in most earnest terms to any proposing to change basis or establish a new place of education.

Buttonholed. — Yesterday morning, Button Jones, a "cullud pusson," in endeavoring to defend a friend, Charles McFadden, who was intoxicated and was being robbed, got into a fight with the robber and knocked him down. The fight was progressing beautifully when Officer Moore hove in sight and succeeded in arresting the alleged thief, Jones in the meantime escaping. At the hearing the evidence was insufficient to hold the accused and he was discharged, while McFadden was committed for drunkenness.

UNDERTAKING.

The Livery-Undertaker War—A Card.

MESSRS EDITORS: We do not propose entering into any discussion on the merits of the controversy now going on in the daily press between the livery stable proprietors and the undertakers; but we feel that it is clearly our duty to ourselves and the public, to present a fair and impartial statement of the case, and let the public draw their own inferences. Several years ago a protection union was established in this city by the proprietors of the various livery stables, and, by resolution, the price of five dollars per carriage was established as the regular and universal rate for funerals. Where the undertakers hired the vehicles, and thereby became themselves personally responsible for the hire, a discount of ten per cent. was allowed off these rates to them, just in the same manner as any merchant or dealer allows a percentage to his agent, provided the payment is guaranteed or assumed by the latter. So long as the demand for carriages was greater than the supply and the number of livery stables less than that of the undertakers, this rule worked admirably, although the undertakers were by no means responsible for the high rates, as they were completely in the hands of the carriage owners, who controlled the matter to suit themselves. Of late, the prosperity of livery stable keepers led other men of means and capital into the business, and the supply of carriages became suddenly largely in excess of the demand. The undertakers, outnumbered by the livery stable men, found it utterly impossible to bestow upon all a share of their patronage. The result was that the business of some languished, and in self-protection they withdrew from the Livery Keepers' Association to act independently of its rules and regulations and to "cut under" in prices in order to attract a share of the patronage to their own doors. This led to a general breaking up of rates, and the very gentlemen who had exacted to the last cent the full five dollars, less ten per cent. commission, from undertakers for funeral carriages, entered into a combination to break down their dissenting members and established a Union stable, where carriages for funerals were hired at two dollars each. The public necessarily thought the difference between the rates of undertakers and the latter was clear profit. The undertakers were thus made rest under the imputation of extorting high rates when evidence was furnished that there was no business necessity for so doing in the acts of the livery stable combination to punish late members of their own association, by breaking them down in their low rate experiment, by establishing such extremely low prices. We are willing and anxious that funerals should be conducted at as low a price as possible, and can only desire that the public may not be imposed upon by exorbitant rates, or yet that the livery men may be forced to hire out at prices which entail actual losses to themselves. We are outside the conflict, and can afford to await its final development, but cannot afford to accept any responsibility or be made parties in a business trouble entirely beyond our control and outside our province.

Allegations have been made, rashly and imprudently, that we have enormous profits on coffins, and figures have been published in attempt to prove the assertion. While these have been grossly exaggerated, still we do not deny that our profits are reasonably large, but it will be remembered that we make no charges for the professional services, time and attention required in attending the details of a burial other than those embraced in the ostensible profit on the coffin, which is made cover a number of details not necessary to itemize, but which are familiar to those who have ever required our services in their families, and which in no view can be said to be extortionate or unjust.

We will pay no attention to any future attacks or charges made on undertakers by livery stable keepers, knowing that there would be no complaint, were we able to equally divide our patronage with all engaged in that business and contribute in that way to their prosperity. We regard our profession one too solemn in its nature to be made figure in a warfare through newspapers, and believing that the public will take no stock in the vile charges made against us from any source, we here let the matter rest for once and for all.

FAIRMAN & SAMSON,
WM. H. DEVORE & CO.
JOSEPH MEYER & SON.

American Commercial Law.

Some time ago we noticed the publication of a valuable book upon Commercial Law by O. D. Case & Co., of Hartford. This book, which is sold only by subscription, is now ready for delivery to subscribers, and seems to be all that its publishers promised that it should be. As a book of this character is acknowledged to be almost a necessity for every business man, and as this work not only recommends itself but is highly recommended by many distinguished judges, merchants and lawyers, we feel safe in saying it is, what so many men have long felt the need of, a safe counsel and guide in and through the legal intricacies of commercial life. The name of its author, Mr. Franklin Chamberlin, will, to many, be its highest recommendation. The agent for this neighborhood, Mr. Cummings, can still be found at 350 Liberty street.

Sad Spectacle.

Yesterday afternoon Catharine Kneeland, while wandering through the streets in an intoxicated condition with an infant in her arms, attracted the attention of a policeman who conveyed her to the lock up. A few days ago the woman had been sent from the Mayor's office to the City Poor Farm, but finding the provisions at the Farm, with respect to the fluids, not to her liking exactly, she had managed to take French leave for a visit to the city, for the purpose of procuring a supply of the deficient article. Unfortunately she supplied herself too liberally, by some means, with the result as stated. She will be taken back this morning as she is destitute of friends hereabouts whom she can rely upon for support.

Notice.—The church on Gotsinn Hill will in a few Sabbaths more be dedicated. Both white and colored are doing all in their power to speed on its progress, as the great revival increased the number to those who were over already.

Musical Catalogue—Enterprise of a Pittsburgh Importing Firm.

We have received from Messrs. Hoffman & Hale, the extensive, popular and well known importers and dealers in musical goods, a copy of a handsomely printed and neatly bound pamphlet catalogue or inventory of the importations and domestic merchandise kept for sale in their wholesale and retail departments. Possibly not more than two or three houses in the country have expended so much enterprise in this direction, and certainly none could excel the beautiful and complete specimen laid upon our desk. It will be found an invaluable auxiliary to the dealer and merchant in making out his orders, as the various grades of goods are reported syestmatically, carefully classified, and have the wholesale prices attached. Thus a merchant out of the city can forward his order and have it filled as satisfactorily as if he personally visited the mammoth music store and made his selection from its large stock. Few readers who pay much or any attention to the importation statistics of our city, have proper idea of the extent of the business transacted by Messrs. Hoffman & Hale with leading corresponding houses of Europe. They have had years of experience and large facilities in importing fresh from foreign manufacturers and enter into direct competition, not with houses that buy from the first hands of the sea-board cities, but with the first hands themselves. Musical goods are offered at wholesale here at the same prices, and in a majority of cases at much lower figures, than prevail at the importing houses of the east. This fact should be remembered by those who buy abroad, as the item of freight alone on musical goods is a considerable one which can be saved to themselves and patrons.

The catalogue quotes all the musical instruments known to the trade, from the elegant grand square piano or powerful organ down to the delicate zither or tiny Jew's harp, and is likewise a faithful compendium of all the standard and classical musical literature. The pamphlet is intended for gratuitous circulation, and while thousands have already been distributed to correspondents, the supply is unlimited, and those desiring to secure a copy can do so by making application at the store, Opera House building, No. 60 Fifth avenue. This house occupies front place among those in the same line of trade in the country, and their palatial establishment is stocked throughout with an immense variety of musical goods of all descriptions, which are offered at wholesale and retail, at prices lower than can elsewhere be obtained for goods of similar grade and superiority. The firm are the agents for no less than thirty piano manufacturers, the most prominent of which is the famous Dunham & Son, whose instruments are now occupying such high place in public favor. We commend this much appreciated and well conducted house to our readers, and bespeak for its enterprising, fair dealing and go-a-headative proprietors that large share of patronage they so eminently merit.

The Wonders of Co-Operation.

If we take 1,000 individuals with $250 each, all experience shows that for every one of them that accumulates a fortune, or even a competency, ten or twenty will die with nothing, and leave their families in poverty. This comes of the "every man himself" idea. Now let these 1,000 men put their money into a common fund, and at six per cent, it will pay the heirs of every one of them one thousand dollars at his death, and there will be a surplus left when the last man is dead. If instead of $250 they contribuate $300 it will establish a permanent fund, which will not only pay their immediate heirs, but will also give $1,000 to the heirs of one of the decendants of each of them in every generation FOREVER. Incredible as this may appear, a very little arithmetic is required to show it is absolutely true. It is on the principal that the Co-operative Life Insurance can accomplish results thought to be impossible by the advocates of the old plans.

Insure in the Co-operative. Its system is the SAFEST, CHEAPEST, BEST. Its office is 128 Smithfield street.

Dry Goods at Auction.

The Administrator's Sale of dry goods at 20 St. Clair street, is progressing most favorably. The auction commences each day at 9 A. M., 2 P. M. and 7½ P. M., and will continue till the whole stock is closed out. This is a rare chance to buy calicoes, flannels, cassimeres, muslins, and every thing else to be found in a first class dry goods establishment, at the lowest price. Every thing must be sold without reserve.

Goods sold at the old establishment, 50 Market street, by private sale, at auction prices.

The Right Place.—Decidedly the best place to call for bargains in summer goods, and ladies wear, is at Moorhead's No. 81 Market street. All the articles have been marked down to the smallest possible price, and in some specialities, such as white goods, hats and bonnets, straw and gimp hats, etc., bargains of an unprecedented character are offered. Ladies, don't forget the place, No. 81 Market street.

Wray's Boston Brown Bread, 29 Irwin street.

Marvin's Crackers.—Marvin, on Liberty street, is making a specialty of the manufacture of crackers. His "vanilla" and "superior" crackers are among the finest in the market, and immensely popular. All the grocers have Marvin's crackers, and they are used by every family.

Coal Men and Others—Take Notice—Platform scales showing entire net and tare weight, in figures, or net and tare arranged one directly over the other, are substantially patented, and will be maintained by J. F. KEELER, No. 83 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

Eclipse Glass.—A big lot of colored glass at Pittock's.

If you wish to satisfy your appetite with the luxuries or substantials of the table, prepared in the best style, go to the Continental, Fifth avenue, below the Postoffice.

Who use the American Button Hole and Over Seaming Family Sewing Machine and Endorse its Merits.

The popularity attained by the Great American Buttonhole, Overseaming and general family sewing machine, for which Mr. James Espy, Jr., corner of Fifth avenue and Market streets, is the sole agent for this city, is the best attested in the large number of machines recently sold. The following persons having them in their families, join in the universal verdict as to their excellence and superiority:

Mrs. Mary Krine,
Birmingham.
Mrs. J. S. McGill,
Carson street.
Mrs. Saml. L. Hamilton,
East Birmingham.
Mrs. Mary Murray,
East Birmingham.
Mrs. S. J. Johnson,

Mrs. W. Furgeson,
Chartiers Tp.
Mrs. Wm. Simcox,
Chartiers Tp.

Many more might be added to the list, but these will suffice for the present. Of one thing our readers can rest assured, and that is that no other machine in the market combines so many really valuable ideas in construction, or is competent to perform such a great quantity and general variety of work. It hems, stitches, tucks, overseams, works buttonholes, braids, embroiders, and does all other kinds of sewing capable of being performed by the hand. Call in at the salesrooms of Mr. Espy and examine the specimens of work and price the machine.

It is said that the proprietors of the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS rent no less than nine pews from the different denominations in New York city for all those of their employes who will occupy them regularly, free of charge. This is certainly praiseworthy, and it is to be hoped that others who employ a large number of people will follow the example. The above fact, accompanied with the belief that a firm who would look so closely after the morals and welfare of their employes, would not undertake to impose upon the public, has induced us to give the PLANTATION BITTERS a trial, and having found them all they were represented, we cordially recommend them as a tonic of rare merit.—Observer, July 1st.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T.F.

Eighty Thousand Dollars' Worth Unsold.

As more than eighty thousand dollars' worth of stock remains still unsold, J. W. Barker, Jr., Administrator, has been authorized to continue the great closing out sale at the warerooms of J. W. Barker & Co., 59 Market street, for ten days longer, before rendering his account. In order to induce purchasers, goods will be reduced still lower. Many articles will be offered at twenty-five per cent, less than they can be purchased in the eastern markets at the present time. The stock, which MUST be sold, embraces desirable Fall and Winter goods, such as Merinoes, Wools, Long Shawls, Blankets, Dark and Medium Dress Goods, Cloths, Cassimeres, etc., etc. Wholesale and retail buyers should by all means embrace this opportunity of replenishing their stock, as the prices are decidedly low and the goods must be closed out.
